

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ENTERED, according to Act of Congress, in the year 1834, by EDWIN WILLIAMS, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Southern District of New-York.

PREFACE.

IN presenting to the public this volume of the New-York Annual Register, being the fifth since the commencement, the compiler is gratified in being able to state that the increase of public favor and patronage has been such as to encourage him to continue his labors ; the work may now be considered permanently established, and its regular appearance in the month of April every year may be confidently expected. His renewed thanks are tendered to those of his fellow-citizens who have patronized the Register, or have furnished information for the compilation. It has been highly flattering to the compiler that the work has received repeated proofs of favor from successive Legislatures of this State, the Corporations of New-York and other cities, and many public institutions.

Some improvements and additions have been made in the present volume, as it is the constant aim of the compiler to sustain the character the Register has acquired, for accuracy as a book of reference. It is not deemed necessary here to give a sketch of the improvements, as they will be readily seen by a glance at the contents. The Almanac, besides the usual variety of astronomical information, compiled from the best authorities, will be found to contain some valuable historical and other matter, which it is intended to continue in future numbers.

In repeating his acknowledgments to his correspondents in the different counties of the State, the compiler requests a continuance of their favors, and suggests particularly to county clerks, and postmasters of the county towns, that they may obtain much valuable information for the Register from the supervisors of the different towns at their annual meetings after the elections in November.

The lateness of the period at which this number of the Register appears, enables the compiler to insert the most recent information ; but efforts will be made to publish the work some weeks earlier in future years.

NEW-YORK, April 30, 1834.

PART I.

ALMANAC FOR 1834,

WITH ASTRONOMICAL, CHRONOLOGICAL, AND OTHER USEFUL INFORMATION.

DOMINICAL LETTER.

THE seven days of the week, reckoned as beginning on the first of January, are designated by the first seven letters of the alphabet, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G; and the one of these which denotes Sunday is the Dominical Letter. Thus, if the year begin on Sunday, A is the dominical letter; if it begin on Monday, that letter is G; if on Tuesday, it is F, and so on. Generally, to find the dominical letter, call New-year's day A, the next day B, and so on till you come to the first Sunday, and the letter that answers to it is the dominical letter. If there were 364 days, or exactly 52 weeks in the year, the dominical letter would be always the same; but the year contains 365 $\frac{1}{4}$ days; an excess of one day and a quarter over the 52 weeks. The day is taken into the account every year, and the one-fourth makes a day in every four years; so that the dominical letter falls backward one letter for each of the three years in which the date or number of the year cannot be divided, without remainder, by 4, and two letters every fourth year, when the date can be so divided: as in the year 1832, it is divisible by four, and therefore February contained 29 days. The year came in on Sunday: consequently (as stated above) A, at first, is the dominical letter; but the 29th of February, which is added, or intercalated, throws the first day of March a day later in the week than it would otherwise have been; and, therefore, the Sunday letter for March, and all the rest of the remaining months, is G. The years which have the 29 days in February, and the two dominical letters, are called Bissextiles, for the reason already given; or Leap Years, because the day of the month, after February, leaps over a day of the week. In law, the 28th and 29th of February are accounted one day.

GOLDEN NUMBER.

At the end of every nineteen years, the New and Full Moons happen at very nearly the same times of the year. The ancients discovered this, and reckoned the nineteen years, or "Cycle of the Moon," as it is called, so that it terminated the year before the Christian era. This cycle was marked by the Greeks with letters of gold. Therefore, to find the Golden Number, or number of the year in this cycle, add one to the date of the year; divide by 19: the quotient is the number of cycles of the moon since the birth of the Saviour, Christ, and the remainder is the Golden Number. As the present year is 1834, add 1, is 1835: divide by 19, is 96 cycles, and there remains 11, which is the golden number for 1834.

CYCLE OF THE SUN.

The Cycle of the Sun is the number of years that elapse before the Sundays throughout the year happen on the same days of the month. If there were 364 days in the year, that would happen every year; if 365, it would happen every seventh year; but, because one-fourth of a day makes an alteration of a day every fourth year, the cycle must extend to 28 years. Nine years of this cycle had elapsed before the birth of Christ. Therefore, to find the Cycle of the Sun, add 9 to the date, and divide by 28; the quotient is the number of cycles since the birth of Christ; and the remainder is the Cycle of the Sun: as, for the year 1834, add 9, is 1843; divide by 28, the quotient is 65 cycles, and the remainder is 23, the Cycle of the Sun.

THE EPACT.

The Epact is the moon's age for the first day of January, or the Equation between the beginning of the Solar and Lunar year. The time from one New Moon to another is about 29½ days. Thus there are, in a year, twelve revolutions of the moon, and eleven days over: therefore, the twelfth new moon will take place eleven days earlier each year than it did the year before. In the Lunar Cycle of 19 years, there are 12 new moons in each of twelve, and 13 in each of seven; because the 11 days of yearly difference in three years exceed a lunar month by 3¼ days. If it were not for the odd minutes and seconds, the age of the moon, on the first of January, could always be found, by multiplying the golden number by 11, and dividing by 30, then the remainder would be the Epact, or age of the moon, on the first of January. The following method will answer for the day of the moon's age on the first of January till the end of the present century: take 1 from the golden number, multiply what is left by 11, divide by 30; the remainder is the Epact, or moon's age, on the first of January: as, for 1834, the golden number is 11; take away 1, leaves 10; multiply by 11, is 110; divide by 30, remains 20, the Epact, or moon's age on the first of January.

NUMBER OF DIRECTION.

The Number of Direction is the number of days after the 22d of March, including both days, upon which Easter Sunday takes place. For instance, the Number of Direction for 1834 is 9. Easter Sunday is, of course, March 30, being 9 days, inclusive, from March 22.

EASTER SUNDAY.

Easter is directed to be celebrated on the first Sunday after the full moon that happens next after the 21st of March; which being the fourteenth day of the first Jewish month, corresponds to their first day of the week after the Passover, the anniversary of the Resurrection of Christ. The time at which this day must happen varies with the year; but the limits within which it must fall are the 22d of March and 25th of April, inclusive, making a period of thirty-five days

EASTER LIMIT.

In order to find Easter, the first thing to be done is to find Easter Limit, that is, the number of days after the first of March, on which the full moon preceding Easter shall happen. To do this, add 6 to the Epact, and subtract the sum, if less than 30, or the remainder when 30 is taken away, if more, from 50, the remainder is the day after the first of March, on which the full moon preceding Easter happens. Thus, for 1834, the Epact is 20, add 6 is 26, subtract this from 50, leaves 24 days after the first of March, when the full moon preceding Easter takes place, which is the 25th of March, the following Sunday is Easter Day.

To find the day itself, add 4 to the number of the Dominical Letter, subtract the sum from the Limit, and the remainder from the next number of 7s that is greater than itself: this last remainder, added to the Limit, will give the number of days from the first of March to Easter day, including both: if less than 31, it will show on what day of March Easter falls; and if greater, take 31 from it, and the remainder will show upon what day of April. Thus, for 1834, the dominical letter is E, the number of which is 5. Add 4 to 5 is 9; take this from 24, (the limit), leaves 15; take this from 21, (the number of 7s next greater), there remains 6; add this to 24, (the limit), gives 30 days from the first of March to Easter, both included; therefore, Easter day must fall on the 30th of March.

On what day will it fall in 1835?

The Dominical Letter for that year will be D.

The Golden Number: $1836 \div 19$ leaves 12; then $12 - 1 = 11 \times 11 = 121 \div 30$ leaves 1, the Epact.

Then for the Easter Limit: $1 + 6 = 7$, and $50 - 7 = 43$ days after the first of March to the Easter full moon. Again:

D is 4, add 4 = 8, and $43 - 8 = 35$, $42 - 35 = 7$, and $43 + 7 = 50$ days from March 1st to Easter, including both. Take away 31 for March, leaves 19, the day of April on which Easter will happen in 1835.

ROMAN INDICATION.

The cycle of indiction has no connection with the motions of the sun and moon, further than its consisting of 15 years. It was established by the Emperor Constantine in the year 312, to regulate certain payments by the subjects of the empire. Therefore, to find it for any year, subtract 312 from the date, divide by 15, and the remainder is the Indiction; as from 1834 subtract 312 leaves 1522, divide by 15 leaves 7, the Roman Indiction.

MOVEABLE FEASTS.

When Easter is known, any of the days that depend on it can be easily ascertained. As, for 1834, Easter Sunday is on the 30th March—Quinquagesima or Shrove Sunday is 7 weeks (49 days) before, and Whit-Sunday is 7 weeks after Easter. By reference to the Mercantile Almanac it will be seen at a glance that the 7th Sunday before the 30th of March (Easter day) is the 9th of February, and the 7th Sunday after is the 18th of May.

Septuagesima Sunday is the 9th before Easter.

Trinity Sunday is the 8th after Easter.

Advent Sunday is the Sunday nearest the 30th of November, whether before or after.

ON THE INFLUENCE OF THE MOON.

That the different phases of the moon have some connexion with changes in the atmosphere is an opinion so universal and popular, as to be, on that account alone, entitled to attention. No observation is more general, and on no occasion, perhaps, is the almanac so frequently consulted, as in forming conjectures upon the state of the weather. The common remark goes no further than the fact, that changes from wet to dry and from dry to wet generally happen at the changes of the moon. When to this result of universal experience we add the philosophical reasons for the existence of tides in the aërial ocean, we cannot doubt that such a connexion exists, and that the moon exerts a considerable influence upon the currents of the atmosphere, according to her position. The subject, however, is involved in great obscurity, and is one which can only be elucidated by long and careful observation.

PHENOMENA FOR 1835.

The most interesting of the Astronomical phenomena happening in the year 1835, and visible in the United States, are the Occultation of Jupiter in April, the return of Halley's Comet (otherwise called the Comet of 1759) to its perihelion, on the 4th of November, and, on the 7th of the same month, the Transit of Mercury over the disc of the Sun.

The Moon's mean distance from the Earth is 289,960 miles.

Eclipses for 1834.

There will be FIVE ECLIPSES this year—three of the Sun, and two of the Moon, as follows, viz.

I. The first will be of the Sun, on Thursday, January 9th, at 6h. 14m. afternoon, invisible at this place. It would also have been invisible in the United States had it happened before sunset, on account of the Moon's south latitude; but in the Antarctic Ocean, and the greater part of the frigid zone, it will be visible and very great.

II. The second will also be of the Sun, on Saturday, 7th of June, at 5h. 1m. in the morning, invisible at New-York by reason of the moon's south latitude. It will be total and visible in a great part of the southern polar regions. Beginning of the general eclipse on the earth, at 2h. 49m. morning, mean time at Washington, in long. $2^{\circ} 15'$ west, lat. $47^{\circ} 30'$ south.—Greatest obscuration on the earth ($11^{\circ} 12'$) at 5h. 1m. morning, in long. $55^{\circ} 22'$ east, lat. $64^{\circ} 39'$ south. End of the general eclipse on the earth, at 7h. 12m. morning, in long. $71^{\circ} 34'$ east, lat. $27^{\circ} 27'$ south. Digits eclipsed $5^{\circ} 35'$ on the Sun's south limb.

III. The third will be of the Moon, on the morning of Saturday, June 21st, total and mostly visible. Should the air be clear at the time, this eclipse will exhibit a rare and most beautiful spectacle: the Moon, during the time of her total immersion in the Earth's shadow, will appear of a variable blood red, or brown, or copper colour, and her light will be weak and pale for some time before and after immersion. The phases of this eclipse will be as follows, for the City of New-York, viz.

Beginning at.....	1h. 38m.	morn. (mean time)
Beginning of total darkness....	2	42
Middle.....	3	25
Ecliptic opposition.....	3	28
End of total darkness.....	4	8
End of the Eclipse	5	12

Depth of immersion in the Earth's shadow, 16 digits in the southern side.

The end of the eclipse will not be visible, as it will take place after the rising of the Sun. By adding one minute to each of the above phases, the calculation will answer for the meridian of Albany.

IV. The fourth will be of the Sun, on Sunday, November 30th, a great and visible eclipse: total at Charleston, S. C. and at other places in that state and Georgia, the Gulf of Mexico, and the Atlantic Ocean. Its phases at City of New-York will be as follows, viz.

Beginning of the Eclipse	1h. 6m.	afternoon (mean T.)
Greatest obscuration	2	28
Apparent \odot in the Ecliptic.....	2	28½
End of the Eclipse.....	3	42
Duration of the Eclipse,.....	2	36

Digits eclipsed $10^{\circ} 37'$ on the Sun's southern limb. Point first touched $97^{\circ} 2'$ from the vertex.

The following are the phases of the preceding Eclipse, as calculated for the City of Albany, N. Y.

Beginning of the Eclipse	1h. 7m. afternoon (meant.)
Greatest obscuration	2 27
Apparent, \odot in the Ecliptic	2 27½
End of the Eclipse	3 40½
Duration of the Eclipse	2 34

Digits eclipsed $10^{\circ} 19'$ on Sun's south limb. The eclipse will begin at a point in the right side of the Sun $97^{\circ} 54'$ from the vertex or highest point of his disc.

V. The fifth and last will be of the Moon, on the evening of Monday, the 15th, and morning of Tuesday, the 16th of December, visible at New-York, and calculated as follows, viz.

Beginning of the Eclipse	10h. 22m. in the evening
Middle, or greatest obscuration	11 51
Ecliptic opposition	11 58
End of the Eclipse	1 20 morning

Two-thirds of the moon's diameter will be obscured on her southern limb, in the north side of the earth's shadow.

How to Set a Clock or Watch by the above Table.—EXAMPLE.—January 1st, I find by looking into the table, that the Clock to be right must be 3 minutes 49 seconds faster than the Sun-dial: therefore, I set it so much faster. And so of the rest.—Twelve o'clock is the best time to set a Clock or Watch by a Sun-dial.

NOTE.—A Sun-dial shows Solar or Apparent Time, but a Clock, &c. should be set to Mean or Equal Time, as the Table directs.

MERCANTILE ALMANAC, 1834.

This Almanac (or Table) will be found useful in calculating the time when notes become due. For instance—if a note is dated February 11th, at 90 days, that date, as will be seen, is the 42d day of the year, being in a line with 11 in the index, or left-hand column, to which add, 93 days (which includes 3 days grace) and the table shows the 135th day of the year to be May 15th, and falling on Thursday.

NATURE AND USE OF CHRONOLOGY.

THE term CHRONOLOGY is made up of two Greek words, Chronos "time," and Logos, literally "word," or "description;" so that the simplest definition of its meaning is, THE STORY OF TIME,—or the narrative of the succession of recorded events, in their proper order, noticing the portions of time that elapse between them.

As the past is our only safe guide for the present, and our only useful key to the future, the story of time, or the consideration of events in the order in which they happen, becomes a matter of the utmost importance. Even to our merely historical knowledge, that is, our knowledge of the events themselves, and without any reference to the comparison of them together, chronology is important; because, without that, our knowledge is not correct. But when we wish to turn our historical knowledge to a practical use, by reflecting upon the causes and results of human actions, chronology becomes indispensable. The great practical use of past events is the effect that the antecedent event has upon the consequent; and if we mistake the order of succession, (and where we have no information, we are more likely to be wrong than right,) we are in a worse condition than if we had no information whatever,—we are in a similar condition to a man travelling along the road from London to Dover in order to arrive at Liverpool,—farther from the object we wish to arrive at, than if we had not moved at all.

Now, men seldom take the first step in any art or science, until they are goaded on by necessity; and as the use of chronology is philosophical, and thus does not appear till men begin to compare the former events with the latter, and draw conclusions, it cannot be known among very illiterate nations, and could not be known in the early ages of the world. The memories of the inhabitants of the South Sea Islands do not extend backwards above an age or two; and even then they are vague, not agreed about the events themselves, or informed as to the intervals between them. Of the recorded events of the early ages of the world, the information is so very uncertain that the most acute and laborious inquirers into the subject are at variance.

Before the story of time can be known, we must know something of time itself; we must know how to compare two portions or periods of it, so as to be able to say either that they are of equal length, or that the one is longer than the other, and how much longer it is. In order to do this, we must fix upon some standard of which the length is known; and as we cannot keep a portion of time by us to apply to other portions, as we do a standard pound for weight, or a standard bushel for dry measure, we must have recourse to some event which we have reason for believing does not take up a longer period at one time than at another,—such as the rotation of the earth upon its axis, the revolution of the moon round the earth, or that of the earth round the sun. Of the absolute equality of any two portions of time, whatever may be the event by which they are measured, we never can be certain; because we cannot be in possession of two of them at once so as to compare together. If we can find no other difference between the events, we have no reason to believe that the times in which they happen are of different lengths; and this negative proof is all that we can get. In using the measure of time, we observe the same method as with other measures. If the period be less than a day, we mention the number of hours or parts of an hour that are in it; if it be of moderate length, such as the life of man, we count it in years; and if it be long, we count it in centuries, or hundreds of years.

Though to all nations, the various lengths, of the day as arising from the rotation of the earth, of the month as arising from the revolution of the moon, and of the year as arising from the revolution of the earth, be each dependent upon the same cause; and though, as the other circumstances of those causes—the spaces over which those bodies pass—do not vary much, the same day, or month, or year, must be of the same length to the people of all nations, and there cannot be much difference between one and another; yet different nations have had different modes of reckoning them. Some of these differences are pointed out in an article, published in the Register for 1833, headed “The Calendar and its successive Reforms.”

When a nation came to such a degree of information and importance, as that it felt a desire to record the events of its own history, it generally began with some great event, as a fixed point or EPOCH, from which it counted the ERA or succession of portions of time, all presumed to be equal, and each equal to that which the nation happened to take for a standard. The day being the portion with which the people are most familiar, and also the one of which the appearance is the most striking—light and darkness being the greatest of all contrasts—most nations made the day the absolute measure; but as the day is rather short for measuring long intervals, they generally had periods of so many days, and of so many times these again, corresponding with, or rather having some resemblance to, our weeks, months, and years.

As an exact number of times of the rotation of the earth is not contained in the revolution of the moon, and as an exact number of times of either of this rotation or this revolution is not contained in the revolution of the earth, eras which are reckoned in terms of either of these fixed periods, do not agree with each other. In other words, as days, lunar months, and years, are not even parts or multiples of each other, two eras which are counted, one in so many times of these, and the other in so many times of another, cannot be made to agree, so as to point out the time at which any event happens, without making corrections for the fractional differences. The period of time in which those fractional differences amount to an unit of the shorter measure, is called a cycle.—See ante, pp. 13, 14, 15.

Those nations among whom the Christian religion has been disseminated, have, ever since its introduction, abandoned all eras save that which began at the birth of Our Saviour. This is called the CHRISTIAN ERA; and when the date or number of the year is spoken of in a solemn or formal manner, the words Anno Domini, or the contraction A. D., meaning “the year of the Lord,” are prefixed to the number, to distinguish it from other eras. When we count from the birth of Our Saviour backward, we either put B. C., “before Christ,” or Anno ante Christum, A. A. C., which is the same. Events are sometimes dated from the creation of the world; and the term Anno Mundi, A. M., that is, “year of the world,” prefixed to the date; but as opinion is divided as to the precise date of the creation, in terms of the Christian era, the commencement of that era is considered as the preferable epoch.

To find the distance of any event—if it be before the birth of our Saviour, add the date of it to the date of the year; if after, subtract; the sum in the first case, as the difference in the second, is the time from the present date, or the distance of the event.

As the eras of the nations of antiquity have become obsolete, and as the principal events in their histories have been reduced to the respective years of the Christian era, either before or after the birth of our Saviour, those eras are needed only by those who read the records of antiquity; and, therefore, it is not necessary in the present case to detail them. There is, however, one era which is used by a very large portion of the moderns, the Hejira, or era that commences at the epoch of the flight of Mahomet from the city of Mecca to that of Medina, which took place in the 622d year of the Christian era. The Mahometan year is regulated by this event.

CHRONOLOGICAL TABLES.—Principal Eras.

Creation of the World.—There have been as many as 140 opinions on the distance of time between this event and the birth of our Saviour. Some make it as small as 3616 years, and some as great as 6484. The chronology which is usually given with the authorized version of the Bible, places the event in the 4004th year before the commencement of the common era.

The Olympiads.—The first year of the first Olympiad begins in the summer of the 776th year before the common era—the first year of the second Olympiad, in the summer of the 772d year, and so on.

The Foundation of Rome.—The 753d year before the commencement of the common era, according to the calculation usually adopted.

The Birth of Christ.—This is probably to be dated in the 4th year before the commencement of the common era.

The Hijira.—Commencing on the 16th July, in the 622d year after the common era.

Before the commencement of the Common Era of the Incarnation.

349 Commencement of deluge, which lasts about a year.

921 Call of Abraham. A monarchy in Egypt at the time.

INCORPORATED VILLAGES.

Villages are parts of Towns, and those which are incorporated, have Charters granted by the Legislature, similar, in some respects, to Cities. These Villages are governed by a President and Trustees, (generally five in number,) who are elected annually by the people. There are, at present, 109 incorporated Villages in the State.

The following Villages have the same names as the Towns in which they are situated.

NEW-YORK POST-OFFICE.

The Post-Office in the city of New-York is situated in the basement of the Merchants' Exchange, fronting Exchange-place and Hanover-street. Newspapers and ship letters are received at the large door in Hanover-street, and the Postmaster's private office is entered from Exchange-place. The box, newspaper, and carriers' deliveries are in the basement hall of the Exchange, which is entered from Wall-street and Exchange-place. The delivery of alphabetical and advertised letters, and the Ladies' window, are in the portico on Hanover-street.

☐ The New-York Post-Office is open for the delivery of Letters and Newspapers every day, (except Sunday,) from 8 o'clock, A. M., until 8, P. M.; on Sundays, from half-past 9 to half-past 10, A. M., and from half-past 12 to half-past 1, P. M.

The vast business of this office, since its recent organization, is conducted upon a regular system, which defines the duties and responsibilities of every person employed in it. There are four general divisions of the office, denominated the City Delivery—Forwarding Department—Newspaper Distribution and Delivery—Letter Carriers' Department. The "City Delivery" is under the superintendence of William B. Taylor, who is assisted by six clerks; he has charge of all the letters for the boxes, general delivery, and Packets. Joseph W. Benedict is at the head of the "Forwarding Department," and has six clerks connected with him, whose duty it is to mark, stamp, distribute, and mail all letters for other offices. Simeon M. Tompkins has charge of the "Newspaper Distribution and Delivery," assisted by five clerks. The "Letter Carriers' Department" is under the direction of Elias Lynch, and has fifteen carriers connected with him, who deliver letters and papers to all persons whose residences are known, (and have not boxes,) twice a day between the months of March and September. Boxes are placed by the Carriers in the upper part of the city, where they receive letters and deliver them every day (except Sundays) at one o'clock, to the Post-Office, in time for the afternoon mails, for which they charge two cents each. Letters for the city deposited in the Post-Office before one o'clock, P. M., are delivered the same day.

☐ For Rates of Postage, see Index.

SUMMARY OF NEWSPAPERS.

The foregoing list, which has been corrected to the present time, (March, 1834,) as far as the transitory character of some of the publications would permit, presents the names of 264 Newspapers printed in this state, besides several Magazines. The omissions are few and inconsiderable. From this list, it will be seen that papers are now published in all the organized counties of this state except Putnam, which is supplied from Westchester and New-York.

The number of daily papers is 19, viz. 13 printed in the city of New-York, 3 in Albany, 2 in Rochester, and 1 in Troy. The annual subscription price to all the New-York daily papers, except three, is ten dollars, and that of the weekly papers printed in city and country, from two to three dollars.

In the city of New-York, 66 papers are published, exclusive of Magazines, viz. 13 daily, 11 semi-weekly, 33 weekly, 4 semi-monthly, and 5 monthly. The average circulation of the 10 large daily papers, is about 1700, or 17,000 total number of sheets issued daily.

MANUFACTURES.

LEATHER.

From a statement prepared by the leather dealers in the city of New-York, January, 1832, the following particulars were ascertained.

There are 53 tanneries in different parts of the state, which send their leather for sale to the city of New-York.

	Sides.	$ cts.	Amount.
Number of sides sole leather.....	526,300	3 00	1,578,900

15 tanneries now building and about to be built. Number of sides to be tanned.....	165,000	3 00	495,000

Dozens of sheep-skins.....	26,000	5 00	130,000

Total.....$3,458,650

N. B. The 770 towns in the state, are supposed to contain 385 small tanneries, or one to two towns, whose business would materially swell the above calculation. No accurate statement of them can be given; they are, therefore, omitted. The increase of the manufacture of sole leather in this state, is 500 or 600 per cent. since 1817, and 200 or 300 per cent. since 1827. The article is made cheaper in this state than it can be, of equal quality, in any part of the world.

It is estimated that the thirteen millions of inhabitants of the United States use thirty-two millions of pounds of sole leather annually. Of this amount this state tans 12,315,000 lbs., or over one third of the whole.

WOOLLEN MANUFACTURES.

From the most accurate information that could be obtained, the number of woollen manufactories in this state, was stated in the Register for 1831, at 208, exclusive of a large number of small establishments employed in custom work. Attempts have been made by a committee appointed by the late New-York convention, to obtain definite returns from the various establishments for the manufacture of wool in this and other states, which have as yet been only partially successful. The following statement is prepared from the returns from fifty-three manufactories, embracing some of the most extensive in this state.

The total value of woollens manufactured annually in this state, may be estimated at $2,500,000, exclusive of those made in families.

LEATHER, CLOTH, AND FUR CAPS.

There are very extensive manufactories of these articles at New-York, Albany, and other places in this state, where are made caps to the value of probably $2,000,000, annually; (one establishment at Albany employs about 600 hands, and pays 100,000 dollars annually for labour only.)

READY MADE CLOTHING,

The principal establishments for this manufacture are in the city of New-York, the largest of which employ from 300 to 500 hands each, chiefly females. Large quantities are shipped to the southern states and foreign ports.

CABINET WARE

Is made in every variety in New-York city, and in most of the other cities and large villages in this state. Fancy and plain chairs are also manufactured, not only for domestic consumption, but for shipment, in large quantities, to southern ports, South America, and the West Indies.

The principal manufactories are located as follows :

There are about fifty paper mills in the different counties in this state, in which various kinds of paper are made, to the probable amount of $700,000. The quantity of paper manufactured in this and other states used for printing, books, &c., cannot be estimated with accuracy, but it is known that over 35,000 reams are required for the newspapers printed in this state; average value about $4 per ream—$140,000.

Desultory Sketches of Manufactories in the several Counties.ALBANY COUNTY.

In the city of Albany are various extensive manufacturing establishments, among the principal of which are those of oil cloths, fur and leather caps, ironmongery, tobacco, and several very considerable breweries.

At Port Schuyler there has recently been put in operation a manufactory of satinets, and another of hat bodies.

ALLEGANY, BROOME, AND CATTARAUGUS COUNTIES.

In these counties are no important manufactories. At Binghamton, Broome county, is a small furnace for castings. This furnace is pretty constantly in blast. The bellows is wrought by water power, and turns off considerable quantities of castings, some as large as 500 lbs. wt. Also, 3 saw mills, which cut annually each more than 2,000,000 feet. Broome is a lumbering county, and vast quantities of lumber are annually run down the Chenango and Susquehannah rivers, to market in the states of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

CAYUGA COUNTY.

At the state prison in Auburn, various articles are manufactured. In Sempronius is the Moravian cotton factory. A woollen factory at Milan.

CHAUTAUQUE COUNTY.

A woollen factory at Jamestown, one woollen and a paper factory at Laona. One mile west of Fredonia is Messrs. N. & P. Crosby's extensive factory, where from $15,000 to $20,000 worth of cabinet ware is annually made. This factory is operated by water power.

CHENANGO COUNTY.

Cotton factory at New-Berlin, with 4,400 spindles, makes 1,000,000 yards annually. Also one woollen manufactory, makes 5,000 yards; 5 tanneries, tanning 13,000 sides; 1 oil mill, makes 2,000 gallons; 1 paper mill, 3,000 reams annually. Several woollen factories in other towns; 4 iron foundries, and one paper mill, makes annually 4,000 reams.

CLINTON COUNTY.

Glass works at the village of Rodford, described in Register for 1832. One cotton factory, and several extensive iron foundries and forges in Peru, Plattsburgh, and Saranac. Also, 1 marble factory, or mill for sawing marble, with 12 gang of saws.

COLUMBIA COUNTY.

In this county is situated the extensive print works of Messrs. Marshalls, the largest in the United States, employing more than 1,000 hands in its different branches. Cotton and woollen factories in Kinderhook, Stuyvesant, Hudson, Hillsdale, Claverack, and Austerlitz. 4 iron foundries, 3 carpet manufactories, and 2 paper mills.

CORTLAND COUNTY.

There are two woollen manufactories, one iron works, and one paper manufactory in this county.

DELAWARE COUNTY.

The tanneries are annually increasing in number. Several large tanneries have gone into operation in Delaware during the past year. There is undoubtedly, at the present time, more leather manufactured in Delaware, than in any other county in the state, except Greene.

During the past year, salt water has been discovered near the base of a mountain, about two miles from the village of Delhi, after boring about 300 feet, from which between 50 and 60 bushels of salt have been manufactured. The water, as yet, is not sufficiently strong to make it profitable manufacturing, the salt costing $1 50 cts. per bushel. Preparations, however, are making to bore deeper, with strong prospects of finding water sufficiently strong to make it an object of manufacture.

DUTCHESS COUNTY.

There are in this county numerous manufactories, particularly of woollen, cotton, and iron, as detailed in the former numbers of this Register. Among the principal establishments, are the Glenham woollen factory, and the Matteawan cotton factory, and iron foundry, situated on the Matteawan, (a branch of the Hudson river,) in the town of Fishkill.

The iron foundry of the Matteawan Company, is a very complete and extensive establishment. Their castings and machinery are celebrated for excellence. Agents in New-York, Peter H. Schenck & Co., 34 Pine-street.

Other Manufactories.

Leedsville woollen factory, L. Smith's woollen factory, and Deep Hollow iron factory, (Reed, Gridley & Co., owners,) at Amenia. An iron manufactory at Beckman—800 tons per annum.

At Pine Plains, Harris' sith factory, situated upon the Chicomoco creek. This establishment consists of two principal buildings, with several trip hammers each, besides other buildings; the whole having been recently improved and extended. The sithes are of the best workmanship, and in high repute. We are informed that sithes have been imported from England in imitation of Harris' sithes, in size and shape, with the stamp of S. H. thereon.

At Poughkeepsie, a manufactory of cotton warps. In the same town are the iron foundries called Dutchess furnace, Wood & Adrance, owners; Poughkeepsie furnace, S. V. & A. Frost, owners, and Armstrong's iron foundry and machine factory; also other extensive manufactories, among which are the following:—Brewster & Grant's factory, in which are 1,100 spindles, with the requisite number of looms. The building is of brick, four stories high, and calculated to hold double the present quantity of machinery. In the machine shop connected with the factory, are made Brewster's celebrated Eclipse Speeders, to the number of 100 and upwards annually. The machinery is moved by a steam engine.

Thomas Williams & Son's woollen manufactory, Vassar's brewery, Vassar's brick manufactory, C. W. Thompson & Co's. stone and earthenware factories, one in Union-street, the other in Main-street, together doing an extensive business, Thompson's sash factory, and a manufactory for grinding dye-woods, are all establishments well worthy of notice.

At Stanford is a small woollen factory.

At Union-Vale, the Verbank cotton factory, and Skidmore's woollen factory; the latter manufactures 8,000 lbs. of wool per annum, besides custom work.

At Washington, Hartwell's manufactory of axes, and other edge tools.

ERIE COUNTY.

At the village of Black Rock are 2 flouring mills, with 9 run of stones, 1 furnace and steam engine manufactory, 2 saw mills, 1 oil mill, 1 cloth dressing and clothing works, 1 distillery, and 1 mill for sawing stone.

There are also hydraulic works at Clintonville, two miles south-east of Buffalo; where are 1 manufactory of woollen blankets, 1 do. of hat bodies, 1 do. of leather, 1 flour mill and 3 saw mills, 1 do. for sawing building stone.

In Buffalo, 2 steam iron foundries, 1 steam saw mill, and 1 furnace.

ESSEK COUNTY.

There are in this county 3 blast furnaces, 1 small do., 1 nail factory, 1 rolling and slitting mill, and about 30 forges, having from 1 to 4 fires each. A large number of iron ore mines, opened and worked, of different qualities, 4 of which supply superior ore in abundance, not only for domestic use, but for exportation to Vermont and other places. There are also a great number of saw mills, and the lumber exported is immense.

In Ticonderoga is a mine of black lead, from which large quantities of this article, almost in a pure state, have been extracted, although the mine has been but indifferently opened.

FRANKLIN COUNTY.

The principal establishments in this county are for the manufacture of iron. Ore of a superior quality is found here, and in the adjacent counties.

In the town of Duane, a large blast furnace has been lately erected—one forge, annual produce of which is about 100 tons. Steel is made at this forge from the ore found here. In Malone is a forge, at which are made annually 70 tons, and a pocket furnace. In Westville a forge, and in Chateaugay a pocket furnace.

In the town of Malone, a cotton manufactory, containing 1,000 spindles, has lately commenced operations.

GENESEE COUNTY.

The manufactories are unimportant. At Stafford is a small woollen factory, where satinets and broadcloths are made. In Batavia is a bell foundry.

GREENE COUNTY.

The manufactories of leather in this county, about 30 in number, are the most extensive in the state. At Catskill is an iron foundry and 2 paper mills, very extensive. In Cairo is a woollen factory.

HERKIMER COUNTY.

At the village of Little Falls, on the Mohawk, is a very extensive water power, which is improved by 3 paper mills, 2 iron foundries, and 2 distilleries. Here is an aqueduct over the Mohawk river, forming a navigable feeder for the Erie canal. The largest portion of the real estate at this village, has been lately purchased by a company, and the lots brought into market, some of which have been sold. The rapid improvement of the village may now be confidently expected. There are also woollen and cotton factories, paper mills, and iron foundries in other towns of this county, as noticed in the Register for 1831. A company was incorporated in 1833, and arrangements are being made to use the waters of the West Canada creek on an extensive scale at Herkimer.

JEFFERSON COUNTY.The Village of Watertown

Is a well built and thriving place, containing about 3,000 inhabitants, and is the county seat of Jefferson, situated on the east side of the Black River; which here forms an immense water power, with sites for manufactories for miles in extent. These are in part improved at present as follows:—

- One woollen manufactory.
- Two machine shops.
- Two morocco manufactories.
- Two tanneries.

Two Rectifying Distilleries.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY.

Mount Morris Village.

The village of Mount Morris is situated at the head of boat navigation of the Genesee river, thirty-six miles south of Rochester, and about the same distance west of Canandaigua. The site is particularly beautiful, (being on a moderate elevation above the fertile flats which border the river,) not only for its scenery, but the soil, being a light sand, is commonly dry, the hardest rains being absorbed and disappearing in a few hours. Mud is seldom seen in the streets.

The place was formerly the site of an Indian village, and by the first white settlers was called Allen's Hill, from its being the property of a white man of that name, who resided for many years among the natives. He married an Indian woman, and has descendants among the Indians of Canada.

There were white families here more than forty years ago, and about that time a number of enterprising people came to the place, in anticipation of a sale of the land, which did not take place, however, till a number of years afterwards. The village was then chiefly settled (upwards of 20 years ago) by families mostly from Connecticut.

Since the first few years after the sale of the land, the increase has been slow, till the last five or six years. The water power, procured by means of a canal three miles in length, connecting the Genesee river with the Canaseraga creek, has given an impulse to the village, which has appeared in the erection of several neat and respectable buildings. It now contains 2 meeting-houses, 3 taverns, 9 dry goods stores, 3 groceries, 2 hat stores and manufactories, 1 tannery and 2 shoe stores, 3 cabinet shops, 1 chair factory, 1 bakery, 1 iron foundry, 1 plough factory, 1 wagon factory, 2 blacksmith shops, 1 hardware store and tin factory, 2 saddle and harness shops, 3 tailor shops, 2 drug shops, 1 carding and cloth dressing establishment, 1 printing office, one flouring mill, and 3 saw mills in the immediate vicinity, 1 lawyer, 4 physicians, milliners, mantua makers, &c., &c., &c.

The present number of inhabitants is probably 500 or 600, and is rapidly increasing; and it may with truth be said, that there are few places whose inhabitants are more industrious, temperate, and of course healthful.

Dansville Village.

Dansville village, in the town of Sparta, is situated at the head of the Genesee Valley, at the distance of about 45 miles from Rochester. The valley is continued from Mount Morris, where it diverges from the Genesee river, by Canaseraga creek, a stream abounding with mill sites, and nearly as large as the river above the point of junction. At the village, two other streams, called Great and Little Mill Creeks, having each a number of valuable mill sites, unite with the Canaseraga. The village is the most populous in the county, containing about twelve hundred inhabitants, and nearly two hundred persons qualified to vote at the state elections. It contains four establishments for the manufacture of paper, each having a double engine, and using in all about a ton of rags per day. It has also five grain mills, three of which are costly ones; one clover mill, which has prepared this season for market about one thousand five hundred bushels of clover seed; one blast furnace, two trip-hammers, five tanneries, and a proportionate number of manufacturing and mechanic establishments, in the various other departments. In the village are four religious societies, a Presbyterian, a Lutheran, a Methodist, and an Episcopalian; the three former of which have commodious, well finished, convenient edifices for public worship. The soil, in the immediate vicinity of the village, is partly alluvial flats, and partly superior bottom timbered land, and the principal part of the valley, as well as the highlands, which enclose it, is first quality wheat land. South of the village, the country is thickly covered with pine timber, of a quality not inferior to any in the country. Within the circle of a few miles, there are sixty saw mills, which make immense quantities of pine lumber, the principal part of which finds a ready market at the north. Sparta is the largest town in the county: by the census of 1830, the population was 3,777; since that time, it is estimated to have increased seven hundred. It contains six post-offices. The uplands, with very little exception, is a superior soil for wheat; the flats are of the best quality for grazing and summer grain. The Canaseraga swamp, situated in this and the adjoining town, (Groveland,) is about to be thoroughly drained, and when the work is completed, (which is now in process,) it will compare in richness with any town in Western New-York.

MADISON COUNTY.

The above do not include mills that do custom work.

NEW-YORK.

The following articles, among others manufactured in the city of New-York, have obtained premiums at the different Fairs of the American Institute, viz. cotton goods, printed silk handkerchiefs; sewing silk made of silk raised in Connecticut; hardware, locks, files, and cutlery; mathematical instruments, brass nails, cast-iron stoves, silver and plated ware, clocks, cut glass, fire bricks, beaver and silk hats, boots and shoes, elegant piano fortes, from several manufacturers, cabinet and gilt ware, maple chairs, chemicals, starch, japanned, leather, leather, fur, and cloth caps, upholstery, &c.

Large quantities of cotton goods are manufactured by Alexander Knox of this city, comprising about fifty varieties, principally of fine fabrics; and the quantity of cotton yarn used in his establishment is over 100,000 lbs. annually.

The iron foundries of this city are extensive establishments, where are made great varieties of castings and machinery.

Principal Type and Stereotype Founders.—A. Chandler, Conner & Cooke, A. Pell & Brother, White, Hagar & Co., G. Bruce & Co., G. Lothian, J. Redfield, H. Reese, and James Turney. These establishments employ in all over 500 hands, and manufacture annually to the amount of about $300,000.

The Chemical Manufacturing Co. manufactures the following articles to the amount of about $50,000 annually: oil vitriol, muriatic acid, spirits nitre fortis, aq. fortis tin, aq. fortis duplex, bleaching powders, alum, copperas, Epsom salts, blue vitriol, and borax. The manufactory is situated on the bank of the Hudson River, about three miles from the City Hall.

HATS.—The value of fur hats finished in the city of New-York per annum, is not less than $1,500,000, at an average of $3 per hat. There are also brought to this city for sale from the surrounding country, hats (finished) to the probable amount of $100,000 annually. A large proportion of those finished in this city, are manufactured in New-Jersey and Connecticut. The number of hat stores and manufactories in the city is about 100. By the introduction of machinery, there has been a great improvement in the manufacture of this article; and they are now sold at four dollars each, equal in appearance to those formally sold at ten dollars.

NIAGARA COUNTY.

At Lockport.—E. Bissell's flouring mill, 6 run of stones, 6 stories high.

L. A. Spalding's, do., 4 do., 7 do.

D. A. Thompson's sash and pail factory.

Stickney & Yarrington's iron foundry.

A. Waldrige's mill for sawing and polishing stone for door and window sills and caps. An extensive quarry of gray limestone or marble is found in this mountain ridge, not surpassed for building stone by any west of Albany.

One satinet manufactory; cotton factory building, will be $60,000, 4,000 spindles.

At Niagara Falls.—One paper mill.

ONEIDA COUNTY.

Woollen Manufactories—The principal woollen manufactory in the county of Oneida, which is also the most extensive establishment of the kind in the state, is that of the Oriskany Manufacturing Company, at Oriskany. The nominal capital of this company is $200,000, and the actual capital $100,000. The company disburses, annually, amongst the farmers of the county, for wool, fuel, teazles and other supplies, about $100,000 cash. The establishment consists chiefly of two brick buildings, 120 by 45 and 60 by 35 feet, 4 stories, with 17 double carding machines, 2140 spindles, and 23 broad power looms, and 18 narrow ones. The annual consumption of wool is 180,000 pounds, with the proportionate quantity of oil, soap and dyestuffs, and employs directly about 155 hands. The agent of the company is S. Newton Dexter, of Whitesborough.

Solomon Rathbun's woollen factory, in the town of Verona, employs 12 hands, and does a proportionate amount of business, consuming probably 15,000 pounds of wool annually.

There are two woollen factories at Vernon, and others at New-Hartford, Clinton, Rome and Waterville.

Manufactories of paper—There are four paper mills in the county, Lomis & Clough's, in Westmoreland, and Olmstead & Isbell's, in Whitestown, both on the Oriskany; Samuel Lyon's, at New-Hartford, and Savage & Moore's at Sauquoit. As to the three first mentioned, we have no definite information; but the estimate of last year, that each makes annually about $6000 worth of paper, is probably not far out of the way for the present time.

Savage & Moore have manufactured in four months, ending July 13, 1833, 100 reams Columbian, worth $450; 350 reams imperial, $1,400; 126 reams royal, $567; 240 reams royal, $720; 222 reams wrapping, $194; 5 reams, 33 by 25 inches, map, $100. Total, $3431. The four months may probably be taken as the average of a year, which would make the annual manufacture of this establishment $10,293. Four men, and usually six girls, are employed in the mill; and the quantity of rags consumed in the year, ending February 23, 1833, was about 50 tons. By these estimates the annual amount manufactured in the county is about $28,293.

Manufacture of Leather—Our information on this subject is not definite, and yet an item so important must not be omitted. Last year the estimated manufacture of 46 tanneries in the county, was put down at $250,000, which was probably a fair estimate. Opinions are not statistics, but it is believed the amount of the manufacture in the county this year, will exceed $350,000.

Manufacture of Morocco—There are two morocco manufactories in the county of Oneida, which manufacture annually about 40,000 skins. They are at Utica.

Iron Manufacture—The aggregate annual amount of the manufacture of Iron, in the county of Oneida, is estimated at $200,000. Blast furnaces at Taberg, Paris, Marshall, and Westmoreland. Pot Furnaces, four in Utica, two in Vernon, two near Taberg, one in Rome, Western, Remsen, and Sangerfield. Pocket furnace, one in Deerfield. There are several extensive iron and leather manufactories just out of the limits of the county.

There are numerous manufactories in the county, of which we have no definite information; and among them some of considerable importance. Rakes are manufactured at two factories in Camden, to a large amount. Sithes and hoes are extensively made at Clinton. Pails and other varieties of household utensils of stave work, are made at Whitesborough, and in Whitestown, contiguous to Utica. There is a broom-handle factory and a spingle factory, in Westmoreland. Among the distilleries, there are three at Waterville, one at Holland Patent, and one at Utica, which run probably on the average, 100 bushels of grain per day each, for the usual number of working days at such establishments. There is a brewery in Augusta, which does a considerable business. There have been four breweries at Utica, one of which was destroyed by fire, one has been converted into a tannery, one has suspended brewing, but malts 5000 bushels of grain per annum; and the Gulph Brewery has been recently burnt and is rebuilding. This is a considerable establishment, and another large brewery is now building. There is a large establishment at Utica for the manufacture of cotton and woollen machinery, beside the machine shops connected with furnaces; a manufactory of steam engines; an extensive axe and edge tool manufactory; two extensive joiners' tool manufactories; extensive flour, leather, iron, copper-ware, tin-ware, brass, coach, hat, musical instrument, starch, bandbox, cordage, cooper-ware, stone-ware, shoe last, wrought stone, and other manufactories. The manufacture of brick in the county, is a considerable item. We have made no estimate on this subject since 1827, when the quantity for the supply of this city alone, was about six millions. The building stone and marble, manufactured at Utica, probably exceeds $20,000 per annum. The boat building is extensive. The manufacture of books at Utica is considerable. Five looms are employed in the city in the manufacture of stockings.

Rome Factory is on the Mohawk. Sangerfield, Manchester, and Hovey's, on the Oriskany. The others are on the Sauquoit, from 3 to 9 miles distant from Utica. Sauquoit, a name injudiciously deduced from the aboriginal, is an equitable stream, about thirteen miles in length, tributary to the Mohawk from the south, and has more than fifty mills upon it. It is supposed that about three-fourths of the hands employed in the Cotton Factories, are native citizens. The number of persons dependent on these Factories for employment, is about 2,500.

The first application of the waters of the Sauquoit to manufacturing purposes, was the erection of a grist mill, about the year 1789, at the Westmore site, now Yorkville, which, according to the mode of applying water power to machinery at that time, was thought to be the only spot on the creek where a grist mill could be operated. The first Cotton Factory on this creek was erected 1809. This was destroyed by fire, March 13, 1888, and rebuilt the same year. Another large Cotton Factory on this creek, was burnt, October 16, 1832, which was rebuilt and put in operation in February, 1824.

Village of Oswego.

This village is situated on both sides of the Oswego river, at its confluence with Lake Ontario. The river is the outlet of all the large interior lakes of the western counties. The hydraulic power formed by it at Oswego, considering together its situation, (being in immediate connexion with every facility for navigation both on the lakes and the canals,) its great magnitude, inexhaustible resources, and facility of application, is, we believe, not surpassed and probably is unequalled by any in the United States. The water, however, was rendered capable of use only between three and four years since, and but very little of it is yet improved. The principal manufacturing establishments are as follows.

Flouring Mills, James Taylor & Co., of stone, 5 stories high, 5 runs of stone.

Oswego is a half shire town. The population according to the village census of January, 1832—2847; believed now to be about 3000.

The tonnage entering and departing during the year 1831, amounted to 43,770 tons. The exports to $80,999. The tonnage was greatly reduced in 1832 by the cholera, which for a time almost destroyed the commerce of the lakes; for that year the entries and departures amounted to 31,970 tons; the exports to $180,302. The tonnage for 1833, was 75,000 tons, viz: 85,903 barrels salt, 90,363 ditto flour, 411,443 bushels wheat, 5,002 tons merchandise.

The Village of Ulster.

Ulster Village (late Saugerties) is rapidly becoming one of the most important points between New-York and Albany. It is situated at the mouth of the Esopus Creek, one hundred miles north of New-York. Until the year 1826, it was scarcely known to any except its immediate neighbours. About that time, Henry Barclay, a merchant of New-York, purchased the water privileges there, and several farms around them, foreseeing that it must become a great manufacturing town, if the water rights were properly improved; and to that purpose he has since assiduously devoted his talents, time, and fortune. By a strong, expensive dam, and a canal cut sixty-five feet deep through a perpendicular rock, he has raised the water of the creek forty-seven feet above the level of the tide water of the Hudson River, which ebbs and flows to the foot of the dam. This head and fall enables him to use the water twice in its descent, and there is ample power to propel twenty manufactories. He at the same time erected a very large paper-mill, extensive iron works, and a building for calico printing, since converted into a paint manufactory.

These improvements, and the expenditure and circulation of the money they caused, soon drew to the spot many mechanics and labourers; the trade of the village rapidly increased, and it has become respectable in size and wealth. In it the farmers find a ready, good market for their produce. Its trade gives constant employ to about twenty sloops and schooners of eighty to a hundred and fifty tons each. The local advantages of this place are great and numerous. Vessels of 150 to 160 tons burthen can come alongside of the manufactories, deliver into them the raw material, and receive on board manufactured goods free of all expense of land carriage; freight per ton to New-York 75 cents to $1., and will no doubt be much lower as competition increases. The present manufactories are—

The Ulster Iron Works, incorporated in April, 1831, William Young, President and Manager, on the premises; William Kemble, Agent, 91 Washington-street, New-York. This establishment embraces all the recent improvements in the manufacture of iron, and is believed to be the most complete in the United States. It contains a large refinery, to which is attached a powerful blast cylinder, ten puddling furnaces, a forge hammer of four and a half tons, and a rolling mill, with all necessary appurtenances—the whole propelled by two water wheels. These works are capable of making 100 tons of merchantable iron, assorted sizes, and first quality, weekly, from pig-iron. This company makes all shapes and sizes of iron, viz. flat, round, half round, oval, square, hoops, bands, boiler plate, &c. 3,000 tons of pig iron, and 45 cargoes, or 160,000 bushels of bituminous coal, (chiefly from Virginia,) have been worked and consumed at this establishment during the last year. It gives constant employ to 150 persons. The increasing great demand for its iron, will induce the company to extend the works the next year.

The Saugerties White Lead Works, Charles Ripley, Superintendent, Ulster Village; William Kemble, Agent, 91 Washington-street, New-York. This establishment manufactures white lead, dry and in oil, and prepares all kinds of coloured paints. It is calculated to make 500 tons annually, but is not yet in full operation.

The Saugerties Paper Company, Moses Y. Beach, Manager; George Hammeken, Agent. This company makes about $125,000 worth of printing paper annually, of the best quality for books, newspapers, &c.

The Ulster Chair and Sash Manufactory, William Moore, Manager; J. M. Ashe, Agent.

Makes annually about 15,000 cane seated chairs.

12,000 Windsor chairs.

50,000 lights of window sash.

Consumes per annum about $7,000 worth of birch, beech, and other plank and lumber.

$5,000 worth of oil, paint, gold leaf, &c.

Pays in wages

$7,000 per annum.

The prosperity of this establishment will lead to a rapid and great extension of it.

Collins & Co's. Axe and Edge-Tool Manufactory, built during the last eight months, and not yet in full operation. Calculated to make 400 axes per day, which will employ 150 hands the year round, (able bodied men,) and will consume 12,000 bushels of anthracite coal per annum, and require 600,000 lbs. of best American iron, and 120,000 lbs. of best cast steel.

The Saugerties Saw Mill.—With this is connected two machines for planing, tonguing, and grooving boards and plank, and turning lathes for both wood and iron.

The Ulster County Brewery, Livingston & Irving, owners and managers. Capable of making about 5,000 barrels per annum. The ale now made here is not surpassed by any brewed in the United States.

Besides the above, there are several grist and plaster mills, and an oil mill within three or four miles, and extensive improvements for manufacturing purposes are in progress, and a paint mill in operation at the great falls of the Esopus Creek, three and a half miles above the village of Ulster, in the town of Saugerties.

Large quantities of oak and hemlock bark, wood, lumber, timber, leather, glass, and other produce and manufactured goods, are shipped at the village of Ulster.

In 1825, this village did not contain a single house of worship; now there are four neat churches, and another about to be built. An application has been made to the present legislature for a bank. If granted, it will give a great impetus to the prosperity of this active and thriving village.

WARREN COUNTY.

The Village of Glenn's Falls

ONONDAGA SALT SPRINGS.

NEHEMIAH H. EARLL, Superintendent.

These springs are situated in the town of Salina, Onondaga county, and are the property of the state. Only 45 gallons of the water are required for making a bushel of salt. At the salt works on the sea coast in Massachusetts, 350 gallons of sea water are used to make the same quantity.

The salt is manufactured at four different villages, viz. Salina, Syracuse, Geddes, and Liverpool, the largest proportion being made at Salina. The state has received a duty from the manufacturers, for the benefit of the canal fund, of 12½ cents per bushel.*

The total quantity of salt now made in the United States, is about 5,000,000 bushels annually, and the quantity imported from foreign countries in 1832, was 5,041,326 bushels. Total consumption of the United States, over ten millions.

* By a recent law and alteration in the constitution, the duty in future is to be six cents per bushel.

Coarse salt weighing seventy-six pounds, and equal in purity to any in the world, is sold at a price which nets the manufacturer nine cents per statute bushel of 56 pounds, and fine salt is sold at six cents. Notwithstanding the heavy state duties and tolls, the dealers have pushed it in competition with foreign salt, east upon the Hudson river and northern canal, and west as far as the Ohio river, at Wheeling.

The average price of salt at Turks Island, in the West Indies, is about 9 cents; in Liverpool, England, 15 cents; in Portugal, 8 cents.

AUCTION LAW.

Abstract of the principal provisions of the Law concerning Auctions.

[Chap. XVII. Title 1. Vol. I. N. Revised Laws, p. 528.]

The duties are,

1. On wines and ardent spirits, foreign or domestic, two per cent.
2. On goods imported from beyond the Cape of Good Hope, and sold in packages, bales, &c. as imported, one per cent.
3. On all other articles, subject to duties, one and a half per cent.

The following articles are not subject to duties.

1. Ships and vessels.
2. Utensils of husbandry, horses, neat cattle, hogs and sheep.
3. Articles grown, produced, or manufactured in this state, except distilled spirits.
4. All fabrics of cotton, wool, hemp, and flax manufactured within the jurisdiction of the United States.

Goods are exempted from auction duties,

1. When they belong to the United States or this state.
2. When sold by the authority of a court, or when seized by a public officer on account of any forfeiture or penalty, or under a distress for rent.
3. The effects of a deceased person sold by executors or administrators, or by a person authorized by a surrogate.
4. The effects of a bankrupt or insolvent, sold by his assignees, appointed pursuant to law, or by a general assignment for the benefit of all his creditors.
5. Goods damaged at sea, and sold within twenty days after being landed, for the owners or insurers.

Any citizen of this state may sell at auction (except in the city of New-York) all such goods as are not subject to duties. But in the city of New-York, or where the goods pay duties, the sale must be by an authorized auctioneer, his partner or clerk. And any person selling contrary to the said provisions, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

When an auctioneer cannot attend an auction by sickness, by duty as a fireman, by military orders, or necessary attendance in a court of justice, or when he is temporarily absent from the place for which he is appointed, he may employ a partner to attend in his behalf.

He must give bond to the people of this state, with two freehold sureties, conditioned in the penalty of five thousand dollars, for the payment of the duties imposed by law and accruing on his sales. The penalty for selling without executing the bond, is one hundred and twenty-five dollars for each article offered for sale.

No auctioneer in any city, shall at the same time have more than one house or store for holding his auction, and shall, before entering on his office, designate in a writing, to be filed with the clerk of the city, such house or store, and his partner or partners. But goods sold in the packages in which they were imported, furniture, and such bulky articles as have usually been sold in warehouses, in the streets, or on the wharves, need not be sold in the house or store designated in such writing, if such sales be advertised at least two days previously in one or more newspapers.

Auctioneers are to receive two and a half per cent., on the amount of all sales, unless by previous agreement in writing; and for demanding or receiving an unlawful commission, shall forfeit two hundred and fifty dollars, and refund the moneys so received.

No auctioneer on the same day and at the same place where his public auction shall be held, nor any other person at the same time and place, shall sell at private sale any goods liable to auction duties, under penalty of forfeiting their price.

Every auctioneer shall make out in writing a quarterly account, dated on the first days of April, July, October, and January, in the year for which he is appointed, stating minutely,

1. The sum for which any goods shall have been sold at every auction held by or for him, from the time of his giving bond or from the date of his last quarterly account.
2. The days on which sales were so made, and the amount of each day's sale, designating the sales made by himself, or in his presence, and those made in his absence by his partner or clerk, and the causes of his absence.
3. The amount of all private sales made by himself or his partners, and the times thereof.
4. The amount of duties chargeable on all sales made.

Every such account shall, within twenty days after its date, be exhibited by auctioneers for a city, to the mayor or recorder, and if by an auctioneer for a county, to a county judge, and be verified by oath. Every partner of an auctioneer and every clerk who has made any sales, shall also swear to his belief in the truth and justice of every particular of such account.

The state duties (together with the addition of two and one half per cent. on the whole amount of them) are to be paid within ten days after exhibiting such account.

Any deceit or fraud in violating any provision of the Title respecting Auctioneers, is made a misdemeanor, and subjects the offending party to the payment of treble damages to the party injured.

Description of the Canals.

ERIE CANAL.

Length from Lake Erie to the Hudson River, 363 miles, viz.

Western Section—Buffalo to Montezuma, on Seneca River,	}	157 miles, 21 locks, fall 186 ft.
Middle do.—Montezuma to Utica,		96	11 rise & fall	95
Eastern do.—Utica to Albany,		110	52 fall	417
		363	84 rise & fall	698

Lake Erie is 565 feet above the Hudson River at Albany.

The canal is 40 feet wide on the surface, and 4 feet deep.

CHAMPLAIN CANAL.

This canal commences at the junction with the Erie Canal, nine miles north of Albany, and terminates at Whitehall, in the county of Washington, connecting the waters of the Erie canal and the Hudson River with Lake Champlain. It has a lateral cut, connecting it with the Hudson River by three locks at Waterford, eleven miles north of Albany, as the Erie Canal has connecting it with the same river at West Troy, by two locks.

Length from Lake Champlain, at Whitehall, to junction with Erie Canal, 9 miles above Albany, 63 miles. Number of locks, as follows :

7 locks rise from the lake to the summit level, 54 feet.

14 do fall from the summit level to the Hudson, 134

Total, 21 locks.

Rise and fall, 188

OSWEGO CANAL.

Length from Salina to Oswego, 38 miles; connecting Lake Ontario with the Erie Canal. One half the distance is canal, and one half slack water or river navigation, with a towing path on the bank. Fourteen locks, (13 of stone, and 1 of wood and stone.) Descent from Salina to Lake Ontario, 123 feet.

CAYUGA AND SENECA CANAL.

Commences at the Erie Canal at Montezuma, Cayuga county, and terminates at Geneva, Ontario county; connecting the waters of the Erie Canal with those of Seneca Lake. This canal has also a lateral branch to East Cayuga village, on the Cayuga Lake, thus connecting with the waters of that lake. It opens a lake navigation of more than 100 miles.

Length, 20 miles and 44 chains, from Geneva, on the Seneca Lake, to Montezuma, on the Erie Canal. One half canal, and one half slack water navigation. 2,710 feet of tow-path bridges. 11 wood locks. Descent, 73½ feet from Seneca Lake to the Erie canal at Montezuma.

CHEMUNG CANAL.

Extends from the head waters of the Seneca Lake to the Chemung (or Tioga) River, a branch of the Susquehannah, at the village of Elmira, Tioga county. Length, 22½ miles, with a navigable feeder from Painted Post, Steuben county, on the Chemung River, to the summit level, 13½ miles, making 36 miles of canal navigation. This Canal thus forms part of a chain of communication from the Erie Canal to the Susquehannah River. It has 52 wood locks, comprising 516 feet of lockage, and 1 guard lock, 3 aqueducts, 5 culverts, and 76 bridges. Distance from Elmira to Albany, via this canal, Seneca Lake, Cayuga and Seneca and Erie Canals, 326 miles.

CROOKED LAKE CANAL.

Extends from Penn Yan to Dresden, both in Yates county, connecting the waters of the Crooked and Seneca Lakes, through a beautiful and fertile country. It is 8 miles in length, and has 269 feet of lockage, which is overcome by 27 wood locks. The other structures are 1 guard lock, 12 bridges, 3 culverts, and 1 waste wier.

CHENANGO CANAL.

An act of the legislature was passed, February, 1833, authorizing the construction of the Chenango Canal, to extend from the Erie Canal, in Oneida county, to the Susquehannah River, at Binghamton, Broome county. Length, about 95 miles. Route as follows:—Commencing at Whitesborough, or Utica, passing through the valleys of the Oriskany and Sawquoit Creeks, and Chenango River, and by the towns and villages of New-Hartford, Clinton, Madison, Hamilton, Sherburne, Norwich, Oxford, Greene, and Chenango Forks, and terminating at Binghamton, where it unites with the Susquehannah River.

Elevation from the Erie Canal to the summit level, 706 feet.
Descent from thence to the Susquehannah River, 303

Total lockage, 1,009

The estimated cost of this canal, by Mr. Hutchinson, Civil Engineer, in 1828, was $944,775 36; but the Canal Commissioners, in their report of January, 1834, estimate the cost at $1,737,703 22.

During the season of 1833, surveys of different routes were made from Sherburne, a few miles south of the summit level, north to the Erie Canal, and a preference given to the route terminating at Whitesborough. (The legislature, at their present session, have decided to change it to Utica.) On this part of the canal there will be 87 locks and 4 aqueducts; and it is proposed to construct the locks with wooden chambers, supported by a dry wall of stone masonry on the sides, excepting about eight feet below the upper gates. Some of the locks are to be of stone. The plan adopted for making this canal, and its different structures, will increase its aggregate cost beyond the sum for which a canal less substantial might have been constructed; but it is the opinion of the Canal Commissioners that it will prove the cheapest and most useful, requiring less expense for repairs. To supply the summit level with water, artificial reservoirs are to be constructed, and fed from ponds and brooks.

Contracts for the 38 miles, between the Erie Canal and the village of Sherburne, (excepting the reservoirs and feeders,) have been made, and the 15th of October, 1836, is the time stipulated for the completion of the work. Surveys have been made from Sherburne to Greene, Chenango county, and the present season the surveys from Greene to Binghamton will be completed. These sections will be placed under contract as soon as convenient after the completion of the surveys and estimates.

One million of dollars have been appropriated to the construction of this canal, and an additional one is recommended by the Commissioners in anticipation of contracts.

CONTEMPLATED CANALS.

Genesee and Allegany Canal.

Public attention has been frequently called to the subject of a canal proposed to be made from Rochester, on the Erie Canal, to Olean, (or Hamilton,) on the Allegany River; and a bill has been introduced into the legislature directing a particular survey of the route, and estimate of the cost of construction. The route was superficially surveyed in 1825, by an Engineer of the state, and in 1826 a report made to the legislature by the Canal Commissioners. The canal is to commence at Rochester, following the valley of the Genesee River through Monroe, Livingston, and Allegany counties, until it reaches the Upper Genesee Falls, at Nunda, in the latter county, from whence it rises to the summit level 981 feet above the Erie Canal. The length of the summit will be 8 miles, and the whole fall, from thence to Olean, Cattaraugus county, on the Allegany River, is 78 feet. Whole lockage, ascending and descending, 1,059 feet. The length of canal, from Rochester to Olean, will vary little from 100 miles. The lockage is equal to 132 eight feet locks on the whole line; being about the same proportion of lockage as the Chenango Canal. A passage from the Ohio valley to the Genesee valley, is here 1488 feet above tide level, and is less elevated than any passage that has been examined, either to the Potomac or Susquehannah valleys. With regard to a supply of water for the summit level, it is remarked by the engineer, that the whole of the Ischua Creek can be received into a summit pond; besides, the drainage of 190 miles of surface can be turned into it, so that the reservoir would be abundantly supplied with water. Mr. Roberts, engineer, gives the following account of the capacity of the streams in October, 1825.

Ischua Creek, cubic feet per minute,	750
Lime Lake, Beaver Lake, and Peacock Lake,	400
Oil Creek,	450

Together, per minute, 1,600

In the report referred to, the estimated cost of the proposed canal is $875,588.

The distance of Rochester from Albany, by the Erie Canal, is 270 miles; from thence to Olean, by the proposed canal, say 90 miles; from Olean to Pittsburgh, by the Allegany River, (which has been navigated by steam-boats,) 260 miles.

"A canal, (says Mr. Roberts,) uniting with the Allegany River, would accommodate a large section of our country, whose surplus products are equal in quantity and quality to those of any portion of the state, in proportion to its cultivated land and population, in both which respects it is rapidly increasing. Other considerations are, the great enhancement in the value of lands, which are known to abound in lumber of the best quality, and coal mines, and other minerals, on the various branches of the Allegany, and the very extensive commerce which would be drawn through this canal, and down the Allegany and Ohio, and from the countries adjacent. With all these advantages, the canal would undoubtedly soon become a source of increasing revenue to this state."

The following statement of tolls collected on the western part of the Erie Canal, being 93 miles, or about the same length as the proposed canal, will form some data to calculate the probable income of the latter. If the proposed improvement should cost $1,000,000, the interest thereon, at five per cent., would be but $50,000.

A meeting of citizens in the city of New-York, favourable to the Genesee and Allegany Canal, was held in October, 1833, at the Shakespeare Hotel, Christian Bergh, Chairman, Edwin Williams, Secretary; when resolutions were adopted expressive of the opinion of the meeting of the importance of the proposed canal. A committee of forty-five gentlemen was appointed to call the attention of the citizens generally to the subject. Under the direction of the committee, an interesting pamphlet was prepared and printed, entitled "An appeal to the people of the state of New-York, and their representatives in the legislature, in favour of constructing the Genesee and Allegany Canal."

Black River Canal.

The Canal Commissioners report, March, 1831, that the cost of the proposed canal from Rome to the High Falls of the Black River, a distance of thirty-six miles, and including a navigable feeder of nine miles at Boonville, with the improvement of forty miles of the river navigation from the High Falls to Carthage, is estimated at $602,544.

The whole rise and fall, from Rome to the Black River, is 1,078 feet.

Length of canal and river navigation, 76 miles.

The supply of water is to be obtained from the Black River, which, at Smith's mills, is estimated to afford 20,000 cubic feet per minute, in an ordinary dry season. (See Incorporated Canal Companies.)

Length of rail-road.—16 miles, from the head of canal, at Honesdale, to the coal mines at Carbondale, in Luzerne county, in the valley of the Lackawanna River, which empties into the Susquehanna at Pittston, 22 miles below Carbondale, and 8 miles above Wilkesbarre. Total length of canal and rail-road, 125 miles.

The rail-road crosses the Moosic mountain, overcoming an elevation of 912 feet above the Lackawaxen, and 850 above the coal mines, which last are about 730 feet above tide water on the Hudson.

This canal is 32 to 36 feet wide, upon the water line, and has 4 feet depth of water. The locks are 76 feet in length between the gates, and 9 feet wide. The boats carry 28 to 33 tons.

The principal business done on the canal is in coal. Over 1,000 men are employed by the company at the mines, in the boats, &c.

Coal mined, and brought to tide water, in 1830, 43,200 tons.

The Lackawanna coal brought down this canal, is deposited at Rondout, on Rondout Creek, one mile from the Hudson River, (opposite Rhinebeck,) where vessels may load drawing ten feet water. It is 90 miles from the city of New-York, and 60 from Albany.

There are three steam-boats running between New-York and Rondout, and several sloops in the general freighting business. On the canal there are two packet boats.

388 vessels were loaded, during the year 1830, with coal at Rondout.

Some idea may be formed of the effect of this great work generally on the country, by the fact that the site of Honesdale, at the head of the canal, and that of Carbondale, at the mines of the company, were each of them covered with forest trees in 1827. Honesdale now contains a population of upwards of 1,400, and Carbondale upwards of 2,300 persons.

Long Island Rail-Road.

Application has been made to the Legislature, to incorporate a company, to construct a Rail-Road through Long Island, from Jamaica, Queens Co., (connecting with the Brooklyn Jamaica Rail-Road,) to Greenport, Suffolk County, the latter distant about 100 miles from New-York. It is proposed to establish a Steam-boat communication between Greenport and Stonington, Conn., across Long Island Sound. From Stonington to Boston, Rail-Roads are now in progress, and this route will be the most direct between New-York and Boston, 200 miles.

New-York and Harlaem Rail-Road.

Extracts from the Report of a Committee to the Company, Feb., 1834.

The single track is laid on granite sleepers, in the best manner, from Prince-street to Union place, where the double track commences, and which is laid on granite sleepers to Twenty-third-street, and on wood as far as Eighty-fourth-street, or Yorkville, (except that between Thirty-third, and Fifty-sixth streets, which is as yet only complete with one track.) A continuous line of communication, therefore, is established between Prince-street and Yorkville. The present state of the company appears to be as follows.—

The road was begun to be used as far as Murray Hill in June last, since when, although there are five cars belonging to the company, only three have been used on an average, which have produced in traversing a distance of two miles, and at the rate of six cents for grown persons, and half price for children, up to the 12th inst., the sum of $5,989 52, and have run on week days only. The total number of passengers carried, has been 89,094. The daily expenses of running each car may be computed at $2 75, exclusive of wear and tear.

The hotel at Yorkville is a spacious two-story building, 80 feet in length by 30 feet in width, having a piazza around both stories. Built on an elevation 125 feet above tide water, it commands a view of the surrounding country, Hurl-gate and the East River, that has no equal on the Island.

BANK COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

Extracts from the Report of the Bank Commissioners to the Legislature, February 1, 1834.

The business operations of the past year have been uncommonly extensive and prosperous, and enterprise of every description has been liberally rewarded. The agriculturalist has again been favoured with abundant crops and favourable markets, and the effects are visible in the general improvement and embellishment of the country, and in the rapid and almost universal appreciation in the value of real estate. Capital has everywhere met a ready demand, commanding at all times, even in the city, where most abundant, the full legal rate of interest; and in the country it has been used at a higher rate, in many of the profitable enterprises of our citizens. Trade and commerce seem to have been conducted with an activity unknown for many years; and to have distributed their gains with a bountiful hand, among the busy population of our commercial metropolis.

The banks, whose office it is to furnish the means of facilitating the exchanges of the country, and whose operations are so intimately connected with the business operations of the community, have of course enjoyed a full participation in this general prosperity. Those in the country, during the whole year, have been enabled to sustain a large circulation, and to provide, without difficulty, for its prompt redemption. All have done a profitable business, and may generally be said to have been easy in their circumstances.

It is true, that a considerable pressure upon the money market has been felt in the city during the last two or three months; but it has thus far been confined to the city. The country institutions were never more easy, and money in the country seldom more plenty.

Stocks seem to have been affected far more sensibly than any other description of property; and it is believed that the pressure has fallen much more severely upon the dealers in stocks and money than upon those engaged in mercantile pursuits. Credit in general certainly stands high, and is as yet unshaken.

Compared with the local banks of several of the states, the United States Bank will be found to have furnished its full share of the paper currency of the country.

A due proportion of paper, susceptible of being easily and freely converted into coin at the pleasure of the holder, undoubtedly furnishes the best, because the most convenient and economical circulating medium. But the difficulty lies in ascertaining and regulating the amount as proportioned as to the wants of trade, and the amount of specie with which it is to be redeemed.

As we use a far greater proportion of paper than any other nation where coin and paper circulate together, the effect upon the industry of the country should be regarded as somewhat experimental, at least for the present, and its rapid increase is indicative of the boldness with which most of our operations are characterized.

From the best, but imperfect data within our reach, we last year estimated the bank notes in circulation in the Union, at eighty-six millions, and that the banks possessed twenty millions of specie. The specie in circulation in the community, might probably be estimated at about twelve millions.

The Bank of England, in February, 1832, had £18,051,710 of notes in circulation, and possessed in specie £5,293,150. Within the last year, an estimate has been published of the country bank notes in circulation at seven millions, and the gold and silver circulating in the community at twenty millions.

Taking these estimates as an approximation towards the truth, the comparison between England and the United States would be as follows :

ENGLAND.
Paper of Bank of England,	£18,051,710
Paper of country banks.....	7,000,000
	£25,051,710
Specie in bank,	£5,293,150
do. circulation,	20,000,000
	£25,293,150
UNITED STATES.
Bank paper,	$86,000,000
Specie in banks.....	$20,000,000
do. in circulation.....	12,000,000
	$32,000,000

Probably, however, if the Scotch banks were brought into the estimate, the disparity would be less striking. As it is the practice of the banks there to redeem their paper by drafts upon London, in the same manner as the banks in the interior of this State do by drafts upon New-York, it is presumed that less specie is retained in that country in proportion to the paper, less being necessary to sustain the currency. But still the proportion of specie to paper must be vastly greater in Great Britain than in this country.

Another essential difference in the use of paper money consists in the different manner in which issues are effected. In England most of the discounts of individual paper are made by the country banks, which often pay out Bank of England notes instead of their own, and by joint stock companies and individual bankers, who issue no paper. The Bank of England holds a discounted debt of less than three millions upon personal security. Its issues of paper are therefore but little affected by its discounts, but the amount is professedly regulated by the state of foreign exchange or the price of bullion, and in reality is always subject to be more or less influenced by the wants of government, because when the government requires money to be advanced upon its securities, the bank is too intimate a friend to be found refusing. These securities, such as exchequer bills, &c., of which the bank always holds a large amount, are used for the purpose of enlarging or contracting the circulation of bank notes, according to the supposed exigences of trade. When the circulating medium is supposed to be too much swollen, a portion of these securities are sold for Bank of England notes, and the notes cancelled; and, on the contrary, when the currency becomes too much reduced, exchequer bills are purchased and bank notes thrown into circulation.

In this country, the issues of paper depend almost entirely upon individual discounts, regulated in amount by what the banks consider their ability to redeem. Every additional note discounted, makes a new emission of currency, so that whenever the community are found to have been overtrading, the currency is generally found to be overloaded, and thus, at the very time when the mercantile interest most needs relief the banks are least able to afford it.

The amount of currency should undoubtedly be proportioned to the amount of business to be transacted, and if it were possible to limit it to precisely that proportion without its being subject to enlargement, for the purpose of furnishing capital to create business, or to contraction from mere caprice or misjudgement, we should have nothing to apprehend. And as it is, our system is probably preferable to any which should attempt to regulate the amount by an arbitrary estimate of the supposed necessities of the country.

It has been often suggested, that the establishment of new banks merely enables them to divide the circulation with the existing ones, without essentially increasing the aggregate amount; and it has even been contended that the freest distribution of charters was the best remedy for the excessive demand for them.

The profits of banks in the country arise chiefly from their circulation, and to what extent it would be necessary to multiply them, in order by that means so to curtail their profits as to check the demand, we dare not predict; but it would certainly be more safe to predict that such a remedy would probably be found a most hazardous experiment.

Our experience thus far shows, that the establishment of new banks in the country, has increased the aggregate circulation by about the amount of new capital created. This fact is shown by the following statement of the banks out of the city of New-York, taken from our last annual report, with the addition of the result of the past year's experience:—

	Capital.	Circulation.
1830, Jan. 1.....	$4,452,260	$3,974,345

1834, Jan. 1.....	9,920,260	10,396,171

The banks mentioned in the following table, were all in operation previous to the adoption of our present system, and they are all the institutions which were in operation in that part of the state north of the Highlands, except three not subject to our visitation. Their capitals amount to $4,104,600. Since the 1st of January, 1830, additional banks have been put into operation in that part of the state, whose capitals amount to $5,250,000, and which now have a circulation of over $6,500,000; and yet, as will be seen by the following table, the circulation of the old banks remains very near stationary.

The amount of circulation of the banks subject to our inspection, as shown by these statements, is $15,400,000, of which about $3,850,000 is in the hands of other banks, leaving $11,550,000 in the hands of the public, to redeem which the banks possess about $2,200,000 of specie.

Being perfectly sensible, as we have heretofore frequently remarked, that public confidence in a paper medium must chiefly depend upon its free convertibility into coin at all times, we think the character of the currency would be improved, if there could be infused into it a greater proportion of specie, by gradually withdrawing from circulation our bank notes under five dollars. Such a measure would throw a large amount of specie into circulation among the community, and furnish a most valuable resource for the banks whenever a call for specie should occur. But the difficulty lies in the enforcement of such a law, so long as none such exists in the neighbouring states. The legislature can act with effect upon our banks, to prevent their issues, but not easily upon individuals, to restrain them from receiving small foreign notes.

In the city of New-York, notwithstanding our law now prohibits the circulation of foreign bank notes under five dollars, they form a very large, if not the principal amount, of small bills in circulation. The experiment has been tried in Pennsylvania, and is said to have succeeded reasonably well. It might do so here, but we should ap.

prehend more difficulty in consequence of our much more frequent and extensive intercourse with the neighbouring states.

Connected with this subject, and as a measure necessary to carry it into full effect, the equalization of the standard value of gold and silver, is exceedingly important. The Congress alone has the power to effect it.

All the banks chartered at the last session of the legislature, have gone into operation; and we now have in operation in the state, besides the three branches of the United States Bank, sixty-nine banks, and two branch banks, subject to the bank fund law, and ten banks not subject to it.

The aggregate capital of all the state banks, is $27,846,460.

The bank fund, including the contributions due to it on the first instant, (which it is presumed have been paid,) amounts to about the sum of $290,000. When the payments of this year shall have been invested, as they will be soon, the annual revenue of the fund will amount to about $13,000. The contributions of the next year will probably raise the capital to upwards of $400,000, and the revenue to $18,000; and the increase will be in that ratio until the capital rises to about $700,000, independent of the additional receipts which may be expected from new capital to be created.

SAFETY FUND ACT.

Abstract of the Act passed April 2, 1829, called the Safety Fund Act.

1. Every corporation, with banking powers, hereafter created in this state, or whose charter is renewed or extended, is to be subject to it for these purposes.

2. To create and continue the fund hereby established, every such bank shall, on or before the first of January, in every year, pay to the State Treasurer, a sum equal to one half of one per cent. on its capital stock paid in, after excepting therefrom that part of it held by the state, and at that rate for the time such corporation shall have been in operation, if less than one year.

3. At the time of making such payment, the corporation making it, shall deliver to the State Treasurer, a statement signed and sworn to by its president and cashier, of the actual amount of its capital stock paid in, and designating the amount owned by the state.

4. Such payments are to continue until every such incorporation shall have paid three per cent. upon its capital stock, which is to be a perpetual fund, by the name of "The Bank Fund," to be applied to the payment of such debts (exclusive of the capital stock) of any of the said corporations, which shall become insolvent, as remain unpaid after applying its own property.

5. The Comptroller and Treasurer of the State are to keep proper accounts of "the bank fund," and the former is, from time to time, to report its conditions to the legislature.

6. The "bank fund" is to be the property of the contributing corporations, in proportion to their contributions, but the Comptroller shall, from time to time, invest the same, and all moneys belonging thereto, in the manner provided for as respects the school fund. The Comptroller may sell any such stocks in which such funds may have been invested, when necessary to meet any charges on the fund.

7. The income of such fund, after deducting the salaries of the bank commissioners, shall annually be paid by the Comptroller to the contributing corporations, in proportion to their contributions (excepting such corporations as shall become insolvent, dissolved, or whose charters shall expire.)

8. Whenever "the bank fund" is reduced by paying the debts of an insolvent bank, below the sum provided in the 4th section of this act, every bank then existing, or thereafter to be created, shall, on or before the first of January in every year thereafter, pay to the State Treasurer, such sum designated by the Comptroller, not exceeding a sum equal to one half of one per cent. on its capital stock; which payments shall continue to be made by every bank until the said fund shall be reimbursed to the amount specified in the 4th section, when such payments shall be suspended, until "the bank fund" is again diminished by other insolvencies, when the said payments shall be resumed, and so on.

9. The Court of Chancery, immediately after a final dividend of the effect, of such insolvent corporation shall have been made amongst its creditors, shall enter an order on its minutes, setting forth,

1. The total amount of debts against the said corporation, ascertained by the court, including lawful interest thereon.

2. The net amount derived from its property, and applied under the direction of the court, towards satisfying its debts.

3. The total amount then necessary to pay off said debts.

Such order shall also direct the receiver appointed to take charge of the effects of the corporation, to receive from the Comptroller a sum necessary to pay its debts.

10. Upon such receiver's filing with the Comptroller a copy of such order, he shall draw his warrant in favour of the receiver, on the Treasurer, for the sum (not exceeding the bank fund) necessary to pay the debts, and the money is then to be paid by the receiver to the creditors of the corporation.

11. If, when the copy of the order is filed, "the bank fund" is deficient, the receiver shall be paid the necessary balance out of the first moneys to be paid to the treasurer under the 8th section.

12. The moneys so paid out of the treasury, shall be a charge on the bank fund.

13. Whenever the charter of a bank shall expire, such bank shall receive its share of the bank fund, proportional to its contribution, after deducting its proportion of charges.

14. No creditor of any insolvent corporation shall receive, by virtue of this act, on his debt, after the time the order specified in the 9th section is made, nor interest anterior to the presentation of his demand to the receiver.

15. Three persons, to be styled "the bank commissioners of the state of New-York," shall be appointed, whose duty it shall be to visit every bank subject to this act, once at least in every four months, and examine its affairs, &c.

16. If any three banks, subject to the act, require it, the commissioners, or some one of them, shall visit any bank oftener than once in every four months.

17. The commissioners, or either of them, may examine on oath the officers, servants and agents of any bank.

18. If the commissioners discover any bank to be insolvent, or to have violated any law, they shall apply to the Court of Chancery for an injunction against the said bank, &c.

19. They shall report to the legislature in the month of January, each year, the manner in which they have discharged their duties, with any information they may deem useful.

20. The governor shall nominate, and with the senate appoint one of the bank commissioners; the other two shall be appointed by the banks subject to this act, as follows: each of the banks in the first, second and third senate districts, shall choose one delegate, which delegates, at a meeting to be held at 4 o'clock, P. M. of a day designated by the governor, at the City Hall, in the city of New-York, shall choose one commissioner by ballot, by a majority of all the votes given; each delegate to be entitled to one vote, for every five thousand dollars of the capital stock paid in, of the bank he represents. A certificate of every such choice is to be filed with the Secretary of State.

21. The banks subject to this act, in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth, senate districts, shall meet in the village of Auburn, and choose in the same manner one commissioner.

22. Vacancies of commissioners shall be filled in the same manner as in the two preceding sections.

23. The commissioners hold their offices for two years, removable by the Governor for misconduct or neglect of duty.

24. Before entering on their office, they shall take the constitutional oath of office, to be filed with the Secretary of State.

25. They are not to disclose the names of the debtors of any bank nor any information obtained in the way of their office, except when legally required.

26. Each of the commissioners shall receive the annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars, payable quarterly, out of "the bank fund."

27. No such bank shall issue or have in circulation, at any time, an amount of notes or bills put in circulation as money, exceeding twice its capital stock paid in and possessed; nor shall its loans and discounts at any time exceed twice and a half of the amount of such stock.

28. Any such bank that shall violate the last section, or shall neglect to make any payment required by this act, for three months after the prescribed time, and after being notified by the Comptroller, or shall suspend the payment of its bills in specie for ninety days, or shall refuse to permit an examination of its affairs by the commissioners, may be dissolved as an insolvent corporation.

29. The making of false statements or false entries in the books of such corporation, or the exhibiting of false papers, with intent to deceive the commissioners, is made felony, and subject to imprisonment for not less than three or more than ten years.

30. The personal liability of the stockholders of an insolvent cor.

poration, provided for in the fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth sections of second title of eighteenth chapter of first part of revised statutes, is not to apply to any corporation subject to this act, but the provisions therein relative to the liability of directors shall so apply.

31. The statements required by the nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third, and twenty-fourth sections of the second title of eighteenth chapter of first part, of revised statutes, shall be made by the banks subject hereto to the bank commissioners, instead of the Comptroller, and the powers herein given to the Comptroller shall not extend to such corporations.

No stockholder of any bank shall be a commissioner under this act, and the bank commissioners shall not be any wise concerned in any bank stock in this state.

33. Every bank subject to this act may receive legal interest on all loans or discounts by them made; but on notes, and which shall be mature in sixty-three days from the time of discount, they shall only receive six per cent. per annum, in advance.

34. Every bank subject to this act, hereafter created, shall, before making any loans or discounts, have all its capital paid in, to be first satisfactorily proved by oath to the commissioners: Every bank whose charter is extended, is to pay in its stock and prove the fact as above in one year from such extension; such latter bank may reduce its capital stock to a sum not below the amount actually paid in at the renewal of their charters; the reduction to be certified by the bank to the Comptroller, within a year from their renewal.

35. No bank subject to this act shall issue any bill or note except it be made payable on demand without interest.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The Regents are 21 in number, including the Governor and Lieut. Governor for the time being. They are appointed and may be removed by the Legislature. They meet annually (or if necessary oftener) on the evening of the 2d Thursday in January, in every year, at the senate-chamber in the capitol at Albany. They have the power of granting degrees in the arts and in medicine, and have the control of the whole income of the Literature Fund, and divide it yearly in equal proportions in the eight senate districts, amongst such of the incorporated seminaries of learning, exclusive of colleges, as are subject to their visitation. Such distribution is to be made in proportion to the number of students in each seminary, who for four months during the preceding year shall have pursued therein classical studies, or the higher branches of English education, or both. The Regents are authorized, personally or by committee, to visit and inspect all the colleges and academies in this state, and make an annual report to the Legislature of the system of education and discipline therein.

COMMON SCHOOLS.

Extracts from the Annual Report of the Superintendent of Common Schools, to the Legislature, Jan. 8, 1834.

The number of organized counties in the state is fifty-five, and the number of towns and wards eight hundred and twenty.

The whole number of organized school districts in the state is nine thousand six hundred and ninety, of which nine thousand one hundred and seven have made their annual reports to the commissioners of common schools.

The average number of organized districts to each town in the state, is nearly twelve and a half, and the number of scholars instructed, compared with the whole number of districts which have reported, gives an average of fifty-six, and a fraction to each.

By the reports of the commissioners of common schools, it appears that the sum of three hundred and thirteen thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight dollars and twenty-nine cents, was paid by them to the trustees of the several school districts in April, 1833. The amount expended by the said trustees in the year 1832 was three hundred and seven thousand seven hundred and thirty-three dollars and eight cents; of which one hundred thousand dollars was received from the common school fund, one hundred and eighty-nine thousand one hundred and thirty-nine dollars and eighty-four cents, was levied by taxation upon the property of the inhabitants of the several towns and cities of the state, and eighteen thousand five hundred and ninety-three dollars and twenty-four cents was derived from the local funds belonging to particular towns.

The public money paid by the commissioners to the trustees of the several districts, in 1833, exceeds the amount expended in 1832, by the sum of six thousand two hundred and five dollars and twenty-one cents.

The amount paid for teachers' wages, in addition to the public money, is three hundred and sixty-nine thousand six hundred and ninety-six dollars and thirty-six cents, and exceeds, by the sum of eleven thousand three hundred and seventy-six dollars and nineteen cents, the amount paid for teachers' wages, in addition to public money, in the year 1832. The whole amount paid for teachers' wages is six hundred and seventy-seven thousand four hundred and twenty-nine dollars and forty-four cents; from which, however, should be deducted about fifty thousand dollars, expended by the public school society in the city of New-York, for building and repairing school-houses, and other objects connected with their system of public instruction.

The productive capital of the common school fund has been increased during the year ending the 30th September, 1833, by the sum of eighteen thousand eight hundred and seventy-one dollars and fifty-six cents, and now amounts to one million seven hundred and fifty-four thousand and forty-six dollars and eighty-four cents. The actual receipts on account of revenue, during the year ending 30th Septumber, 1833, amounted to one hundred and nine thousand one hundred and seventeen dollars and seventy-seven cents.

At the commencement of the year 1832, it was estimated by the superintendent of common schools that there were annually instructed in private schools, including colleges and academies, in various parts of the state, about forty-three thousand scholars. Since that time, the number of incorporated academies has increased, and the same result has undoubtedly attended the private schools. But assuming the number obtained at that time and adding nothing on account of the growth of the state or the progress of education, and we shall have an aggregate of more than five hundred and fifty-five thousand as the very least number of persons actually receiving instruction during a portion of the year.

Upon a careful examination of the system of common school instruction in this state, there will be found great reason to rejoice that results so satisfactory have been attained—that its benefits are so widely diffused, and that the standard of education is gradually, though slowly, rising. If much remains to be done, it is little in comparison with the difficulties which have already been surmounted. The organization of the system is complete, the public fund secures to it annually a sum entirely adequate to call forth the necessary exertions from those, on whose voluntary contribution its support mainly depends; and with proper zeal and attention (to the creation of which it is the duty of all classes to contribute) on the part of those most deeply interested in its prosperity, the field of instruction cannot fail to be speedily enlarged so as to be commensurate with the progress of the age in useful knowledge, and with the high responsibilities of those who are restricted to it in preparing themselves for the active business of life.

There are two public law libraries in the state, one at Albany, founded and endowed by the state, and the other in the city of New-York, established and supported by an association of members of the bar, residing in the city, and incorporated under the name of the New-York Law Institute.

The New-York Law Institute keep their library in the City Hall of the city of New-York. This society was formed in 1828, by a number of gentlemen, for the purpose of professional improvement. In 1830, the better to attain their objects, they procured an act of incorporation, but from the commencement of their association they have actively and diligently prosecuted their intention of forming a useful and complete law library. The library already contains more than 2000 volumes of select law books, and nearly the whole series of English and American reports.

The officers of the Law Institute, are a president, three vice presidents, a treasurer, librarian, and secretary. There are also three standing committees, viz. a library committee, committee of jurisprudence, and committee of censorship. Members are elected by the ballots of three fourths of those present at two successive meetings, and honorary members may be elected in the same manner. The property of the Law Institute is divided into shares of the value of one hundred dollars each. Every member paying twenty dollars on admission, and ten dollars annually afterwards until he has paid one hundred dollars, is entitled to a share.

Members of the bar from abroad, while in the city, and judges of the different courts, are, by the rules of the Institute, entitled to the use of the library.

New-York Law Students' Association.

Instituted in 1833, for purposes of mutual discussion on subjects connected with the legal profession. Weekly meetings are held, at which the exercises consist of debates, essays, opinions on legal questions, &c. The society is in a flourishing condition, and promises to become a source of great improvement to these for whose benefit it was designed. Present officers, Linnean Botanic Garden, Flushing, Queens Co.

Proprietors, William Prince & Son.

This garden was established about the year 1750, by William Prince, the father of the slder proprietor. It is situated at the head of Flushing bay, about nine miles from the city of New-York. A steam-boat and stages go and return daily from Flushing to New-York.

The botanic garden and nurseries attached, cover an extent of upwards of forty acres, and contain about 10,000 species and varieties of trees and plants. Particular attention has been paid to the culture of the vine and the mulberry. The green-house department is on a large scale, containing about 30,000 plants. In the other departments will be found fruit trees of all the various kinds—ornamental trees and shrubs; herbaceous, flowering, and medicinal plants; bulbous and tuberous rooted flowers; and American indigenous trees and plants.

Visitors are allowed free access to the garden, on all days except Sunday.

BUFFALO LIGHT HOUSE.

Description by Isaac S. Smith, Esq., Superintendent.

This Light House is situated on the Molehead, or outer end of the Stone Mole, which projects one thousand five hundred feet from the shore, and on the south protects the harbour from swell and ice of Lake Erie.

The base of the Molehead, (in fifteen feet of water,) is of a pentagonal form, about one hundred and sixty feet in its greatest diameter. A little above the surface of the water, it forms a fourths of a circle, as shown by the print, whence it rises by an inclined plane of heavy stones placed on their edges, closely in contact with each other, to the horizontal summit, twelve feet wide, which surrounds the light house. Connected with the view of the Molehead, we give a short section of the mole, which in front is a wall of heavy stones, laid in hydraulic mortar, raised four feet at the water to the tow path or landing, which is twenty-one feet wide, and flagged with very thick flat stones. The wall of the mole, laid in mortar, rises perpendicularly twelve feet to the summit; which, like the tow path, is flagged with large flat stones.

The foundation of the light house is a mass of solid masonry, in hydraulic lime, thirty feet diameter, and nine feet deep. The basement of the light house, (forming an oil vault,) comes on the foundation, with a wall seven feet thick, tapering to four feet in the summit of the tower.

The tower is an octagon, constructed of hewn yellowish limestone, forty-four feet high, twelve feet in diameter at the base, and twelve feet at the top, under the cornice. The walls are four feet thick at the base, tapering to two feet at the top, having at intervals of about six feet iron bands in the middle of the wall, to prevent the possibility of spreading. On the inside is a spiral or metrical stone staircase, so constructed that each step has its broad end imbedded in the wall, and its outer end constitutes a section of a central column. The floors and deck are of hewn stone, the doors and scuttles of copper, and the window sashes of wrought iron, so that there is not a particle of wood in or about the building except the boom, of necessity made of wood, which sustains a copper electric conductor.

Mount Pleasant State Prison, Westchester County.

Robert Wiltso, Agent and Keeper.

This prison is situated on the Hudson River, at the village of Sing-Sing, town of Mount Pleasant, twenty-five miles from the city of New-York, and contains one thousand solitary cells, all reported by the inspectors in excellent condition in Dec., 1833. No increase of the number of cells is considered necessary at present. During the past year there has been erected a wooden building for a store-house, 120 feet long by 40 feet wide: also a stone work-shop, 135 feet in length, and a large barn with stone walls.

During the past year a greater number of the convicts have been employed in the different mechanic arts, than in any preceding year. The ration furnished to each convict per day, is as follows:—16 ounces prime beef, or shin beef, without bones, or 12 ounces prime pork; 8 ounces inspected rye flour; 12 ounces of sifted indian meal, and half a gill of molasses; and to every 100 rations, four quarts of rye in the grain, (to make rye coffee); two quarts of vinegar; two ounces of pepper, and three bushels of potatoes, for ten months in the year; and for two months, (15th June to 15th August,) 40 pounds of rice to every 100 rations. About 50 extra rations are issued daily on an average.

SUPPORT OF THE POOR.

Abstract of the Report of the Secretary of State to the Legislature, giving a statement of the returns made to his office by the Superintendents of the poor of the several counties.

Reports have been received from all the organized counties in the state, 55 in number. All these counties have erected poor-houses, with the exception of six, viz: Cattaraugus, Queens, Rensselaer, Rockland, Steuben, and Suffolk; and 37 counties have abolished the distinction between town and county poor.

The practical operation of our present poor-house system, demonstrates satisfactorily, that it has a decided advantage on the score of economy, over every other existing mode of supporting indigent persons; and that the expense of the system, in proportion to the number of paupers supported, is regularly diminishing as those who are engaged in its management become better acquainted with its details. In 1830, the annual expense of maintaining each pauper, was $37 03; in 1831, $33 28; in 1832, $32 42; and it is now reduced to $32 21. Notwithstanding the superiority of our present system over the former plan, there are several counties which have not adopted it. Among these is the county of Rensselaer, which still continues to support its paupers at a house of industry, at the expense of $1 25 per week each, in addition to the labour which they may perform. Until the last year, the amount paid was $1 50 per week, or $78 per annum. During the year 1831, the expense of the paupers supported by this county, was $6,007 23. The county has therefore sustained an aggregate loss in three years, of $10,016 17, for want of a poor-house.

The whole number of paupers in the state relieved or supported during the year ending at the date of the report, was 35,777. Of these, 33,525 were county paupers, and 2,252 town paupers. The aggregate expense of relieving and supporting the whole number, was $295,239 13. Average expense of supporting each pauper at poor-houses, $32 21 per annum, or 61 4.5 cents per week. The number of paupers relieved or supported in the city of New-York, was 22,584; expense $92,040 17. Some of the other principal counties were as follows:—Albany county, 971 paupers; Monroe 888; Orange 680; Rensselaer 619; Columbia 553; Dutchess 513; Otsego 427; Jefferson 416; Kings 401; Westchester 388; Oneida 380; Queens 285; Erie 283; Onondaga 261.

There are attached to the poor-houses in the state 5,776 acres of land; and the aggregate value of all the establishments amounts to $865,770, of which the New-York city establishment has 248 acres of land, and is valued at $550,000.

JUDICIARY OF THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

The courts of general jurisdiction, are :

1st. The Court for the Trial of Impeachments and the Correction of Errors.

For its constituent members, vide Constitution, article 5.

It is the court of last resort, deciding upon appeals from the court of chancery, and writs of error from the supreme court, and has no original jurisdiction except in cases of impeachments. Its sessions are held at the capitol in Albany, or at the City Hall in New-York, as often as it shall direct, but there are not to be more than two sessions during the recess of the Legislature in any one year.

2d. The Court of Chancery, the powers of which are vested in the Chancellor.

Its stated terms are appointed by him ; but two terms at least shall be held in Albany, and two in New-York in every year. By the equity powers given to the circuit judges the court of chancery has, except in a few cases, become a court of appeal only.

3d. The Supreme Court, consisting of the chief justice and two associate judges.

It has four terms in each year, commencing on the first Monday in January, May, and July, and the third Monday in October. The January and October terms are held at the Capitol in Albany ; the May term at the City Hall, in the city of New-York, and the July term in each year at Utica. The terms may be continued to be holden for five weeks.*

4th. Eight Circuit Courts, each consisting of a single judge.

The circuits correspond in territory and name, with the eight senate districts. Each of the circuit judges possesses the powers of a justice of the supreme court at chambers, in the trial of issues joined in the supreme court, and in courts of oyer and terminer, and jail delivery. There must be held in each year at least two circuit courts, and courts of oyer and terminer, in each county in the state ; and in the city of New-York at least four.

The courts are held for as many days as the judge thinks necessary. Courts of oyer and terminer, (which have power to try all crimes and misdemeanours,) may be held at the time and place at which any circuit court may have been appointed, as follows :

1st. In the city and county of New-York by one or more justices of the supreme court, or of the circuit judges, or by the first judge of the court of common pleas of the said county, together with the mayor, recorder, and aldermen, or any two of them.

2d. In all the other counties, by a justice of the supreme court or a circuit judge, together with at least two of the judges of the county court.

3d. In the counties of Albany, Columbia, and Rensselaer, the mayor, recorder, and aldermen of the respective cities therein, or any two of them, and in Schenectady, the mayor and aldermen of the city of Schenectady, or two, may act in the court of oyer and terminer, in their respective counties, with or instead of the county judge.

The Governor, with the senate, has the power of issuing commissions of oyer and terminer and jail delivery, when occasion shall require.

Besides the powers exercised in the courts of law by the circuit judges, each circuit judge (except the judge of the first circuit) within the limits of his circuit shall be a vice chancellor, and shall, concurrently with the chancellor, and exclusively of any other circuit judge, have and exercise all the original jurisdiction and powers now or hereafter vested in the chancellor, in all causes and matters in equity, where the same shall have arisen within his circuit, or where the subject matter in controversy is situated within such circuit, or where the defendants or either of them reside within the same. Subject to the chancellor's appellate jurisdiction.

* For Special Terms, see page 311.

By an act of the legislature, passed in January, 1831, the equity powers of the judge of the first circuit have been taken away, and a separate vice chancellor appointed for the first circuit.

5th. The Superior Court of the city of New-York, consisting of a chief justice and two associates.

6th. Courts of Common Pleas, in each and every county of the state, which may be held (except in the county of New-York) by the judges of the county courts of each of the counties in this state, or any three of them.

Any three of the judges of the county courts of each of the counties (except New-York) shall have the power to hold courts of general sessions to try all crimes except those punishable with death or imprisonment for life.

The mayor, recorder, and aldermen, or mayor and recorder jointly, or either of them singly, with or without the presence of any of the aldermen, may respectively, in the cities of Albany, Troy, and Hudson, hold mayor's courts.

There are besides the above, certain courts of a peculiar and special jurisdiction, viz. :

1st. Surrogates' Courts, having jurisdiction of testamentary cases, held by the surrogate of each county.

2d. Courts of special sessions of the peace may be held in and for the county of New-York, by any three judges of the court of common pleas of the said county, of whom the first judge of the said court, the mayor or recorder, shall always be one, and for the several counties of the state, by three justices of the peace, or by two such justices and one judge of the county courts of such county, for the purposes provided by law.

3. The justices of the Marine Court in the city of New-York, are authorized to hold a court therein, to be called "The Marine Court of the city of New-York."

4th. Each of the assistant justices in the city of New-York is required to hold a court in the said city within the ward or wards for which he is appointed.

5th. The justices of the Justices' Court of the cities of Albany and Hudson are authorized to hold courts therein, to be called respectively "the Justices' Court of the city of Albany," and "the Justices' Court of the city of Hudson."

6th. Justices' courts in each county, held by a justice of the peace.

New-York, appointed by the common council).....	7

ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELLORS AT LAW

IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

N. B. The numbers under the letters A. N. U. and G., refer to Attorneys' Agents in Albany, New-York, Utica, and Geneva. See pp. 323—27.

It has not been considered necessary, in the list of gentlemen of the bar, to designate their different degrees of attorney, counsellor, solicitor, and counsellor in chancery, nor the date of their admission to each degree. The different degrees are generally held together by the same persons. No person now, according to the regular practice, can be admitted as counsellor of the Supreme Court, without being first admitted as attorney, although such a privilege was formerly given, of which, however, advantage was rarely taken. Every attorney of the Supreme Court is entitled to an examination as counsellor in three years after his admission as attorney; and every person is entitled to an examination as solicitor upon producing his attorney's license, and as counsellor in chancery upon producing his counsellor's license in the Supreme Court. Persons are admitted, as of course, to the same degrees in the County Courts, and in the Superior Court of the city of New-York, as they hold in the Supreme Court. It may therefore be taken for granted, that the persons on the following list are entitled to practise at attorneys in the Supreme Court, and the courts of their own counties, and also as counsellors in the same, except when admitted as attorneys within three years.

It will be observed that the object has been to confine the list of names to practising attorneys and counsellors.

MINISTERS AND CONSULS OF THE UNITED STATES

Resident in Foreign Countries.

Ministers Plenipotentiary receive an annual salary of $9000, besides $9000 for outfit. A charge d'Affaires receives a salary of $4500, and a Secretary of Legation of $3000.

Consuls to Barbary are more of Diplomatic than Commercial Agents; not only as it regards their vocations, but also as it respects their compensation.

They receive regular annual salaries, and their pay does not in the least depend on fees. Consuls of the United States, generally so called, are, in respect, agents for commerce and seamen. They receive no yearly salaries, (except in Paris and London, where they have an annual salary of $2000) and their compensation is derived from the fees which are allowed by law. Consuls of the United States, for commercial purposes, are regularly admitted and recognised, as to their official functions, in the ports of Europe; but in the colonies of the European nations, agents for commerce and seamen, mostly exercise the duties of their stations under courtesy, without any formal recognition.

In their public capacity, consuls and agents for commerce and seamen are principally occupied in verifying in different forms, the legality of the trade of the United States with foreign nations, and in relieving and sending home American Seamen, who, by accident or misfortune, are left destitute within the jurisdiction of their several consulates or agencies.

Consular agents though not recognised by law, have in some cases been made by our ministers abroad for special and temporary purposes; but commissions for these appointments are not granted by the United States.—[National Calendar.]

And from and after the day last aforesaid, all duties upon imports shall be collected in ready money; and all credits now allowed by law, in the payment of duties, shall be, and hereby are, abolished; and such duties shall be laid for the purpose of raising such revenue as may be necessary to an economical administration of the government; and from and after the day last aforesaid, the duties required to be paid by law on goods, wares, and merchandise, shall be assessed upon the value thereof at the port where the same shall be entered, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That, in addition to the articles now exempted by the act of the fourteenth of July, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-two, and the existing laws, from the payment of duties, the following articles imported from and after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, and until the thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and forty-two, shall also be admitted to entry, free from duty, to wit: bleached and unbleached linens, table linen, linen napkins, and linen cambrics, and worsted stuff goods, shawls, and other manufactures of silk and worsted, manufactures of silk, or of which silk shall be the component material of chief value, coming from this side of the Cape of Good Hope, except sewing silk.

APPENDIX.

SIX MILLIONS LOAN.

AN ACT authorizing a loan for the benefit of the People of this State.
Passed April 19, 1834.

The People of the State of New-York, represented in the Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows :

§ 1. The commissioners hereinafter named, are hereby authorized, if, in their opinion, the public interest shall require it, by an order in writing, signed by a majority of them, and filed in the office of the comptroller, from time to time, whenever they shall deem it expedient, to direct the comptroller to issue special certificates of stock, in such manner, for such amounts, and under such restrictions as are hereinafter provided, for an amount, not exceeding in whole six millions of dollars; for the redemption of which, and the punctual payment of the interest thereon, as herein provided, to the owners of such stock, the faith and credit of the people of this state are hereby pledged.

§ 2. Upon the filing of every such order, the comptroller shall issue certificates of stock to the amount required thereby, in such sums and to such persons or bodies corporate as the said commissioners, or a majority of them, may direct, for the purpose of being loaned as hereinafter directed.

§ 3. The said commissioners are hereby authorized to loan so much of the said stock when so issued as aforesaid, or of the moneys arising from the sale thereof, as in their opinion the public interest may require, to such of the incorporated banking institutions in the city of New York, as they shall deem proper, not exceeding in the whole four millions of dollars, and in such sums to each as they shall deem proper, not exceeding in amount to any one institution one half of the capital stock of such institution, at a rate of interest not less than five per cent, payable quarter yearly, upon its par value; and the said commissioners before they shall make any such loan, shall examine particularly into the affairs of such bank. And the said commissioners may also at their discretion, take such security for the punctual payment of said interest and the ultimate payment of said principal, as they shall deem proper and necessary to insure such payments at such time as may be agreed upon, not extending beyond the time when the principal of said stock shall be reimbursable; but no part of the loan made to any banking institution, shall be repaid to the state, before the expiration of the period at which the stock shall be redeemable, unless such repayment shall be made in the stock created under this act.

§ 4. The said commissioners shall prescribe the form in which the said certificates of stock shall be issued; and the said stock shall be transferable at the pleasure of the owner, in such manner as the said commissioners shall direct.

§ 5. The said stock shall bear an interest of five per centum per annum, payable quarterly yearly at the Manhattan Bank in the city of New-York, and shall be reimbursable at such time or times within twelve years from the passage of this act, as the said commissioners shall designate.

§ 6. The said stock shall be converted into money, in such manner, and under such regulations, as the commissioners hereinafter mentioned shall direct; but the amount of any premium received on such stock upon converting the same as aforesaid, shall be paid into the treasury of this state, for the benefit of the general fund.

§ 7. The commissioners hereinafter named, are hereby authorized to convert into money, by disposing of the same by auction or otherwise, in their discretion, a further amount of stock authorized by the first and second sections of this act, not exceeding two millions of dollars, and to pay the said money into the treasury of this state, the premium thereon to belong to the general fund, and the capital to be loaned to the citizens of the different counties of this state, except the counties in the first senatorial district, in the manner and subject to the provisions hereinafter mentioned, to wit;

1. The amount to be loaned in each county shall be ascertained by an apportionment of the whole amount of two millions of dollars, among such counties, according to the number of inhabitants in each, as ascertained by the census taken in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty.

2. No loan shall be made to the citizen of any county until an application therefor shall have been made to said commissioners by the board of supervisors of such county.

3. The moneys to be loaned in each county shall be loaned by the "commissioners for loaning money" in such county, under the act of April 11, 1808, and where there shall be no such commissioners in any county, they may be appointed in the same manner, and shall hold their offices for the same term and upon the same tenure as if appointed under said act, and pursuant to the provisions of the revised statutes.

4. The commissioners of each county, before entering upon the duties of their office under this act, shall take the oath of office as prescribed by the constitution of this state, and file in the office of the Comptroller a like bond as is provided for by the fourth section of the act last aforesaid, in addition to the bond required by that section in cases where that may now be required.

5. The principal moneys to be loaned under this act, shall be payable at such time or times within twelve years from the passage of this act, as the said commissioners mentioned in the eleventh section of this act, shall designate, and the interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum, shall be payable on the first Tuesday of May in each year: and the said commissioners for loaning money may retain out of the said interest, one half of one per cent. for their compensation.

6. The said commissioners for loaning money, shall keep separate books and accounts, relating to the loan authorized by this act, distinct from their other loan office books and accounts; and in addition to the evidences of title required by said last mentioned act, it shall be the duty of the said commissioners to require of the borrower certificates from the proper officers, showing that there is no incumbrance upon the property proposed to be mortgaged on record in their offices.

7. Whenever any principal moneys loaned by said commissioners shall be paid in to them, it shall not be re-loaned, but shall be paid into the treasury of this state.

§ 8. The moneys to be realized from the stock authorized to be issued under the preceding section of this act, shall belong to the general fund of this state, and the interest upon said stock shall be paid out of the said general fund.

§ 9. Except as herein otherwise provided, all the provisions of the act aforesaid, entitled "An act authorizing a loan of moneys to the people of this state," passed April 11, 1808; and also of the act to amend the same, passed March 29, 1809; and also of the act passed April 21, 1825, entitled "An act to provide for the conveyance of land sold by a commissioner of loans under the act entitled "An act authorizing a loan of moneys to citizens of this state," passed April 11, 1808; and also of the act, entitled "An act relative to the loans of 1786, 1792 and 1806, passed April 13, 1832," shall apply to the loans to be made under the seventh section of this act, in the same manner as if the moneys loaned constituted a part of the said loan of one thousand eight hundred and eight.

§ 10. Whenever upon the foreclosure and sale of any premises, mortgaged to secure any loan made under the seventh section of this act, the said mortgaged premises shall not bring the amount due and to become due upon said mortgage with the costs of foreclosure and sale, the deficiency shall be reported by the commissioners making such sale to the board of supervisors of the county, who shall, at their next annual meeting, cause such deficiency and the interest thereon, to be raised as part of the contingent charges of such county, and paid over to the county treasurer, whose duty it shall be to pay the same over to the said commissioners for loaning money.

§ 11. The commissioners of the canal fund, and the bank commissioner appointed by the governor and senate, shall be commissioners to carry this act into effect; but it shall not be lawful for them to require any issue of stock, as herein before provided, after the first day of February next.

§ 12. If the supervisors of any county in this state shall refuse or neglect, for three months after the passage of this act, to take said loan on the terms herein mentioned, the said commissioners may, in their discretion, loan the money appropriated to said county to any incorporated bank or banks in said county; and if there is no incorporated bank in said county, then the said commissioners may loan the amount apportioned to said county to any incorporated bank or banks in this state. Said loans mentioned in this section to be made upon the like terms and security as the loans mentioned in the third section.

§ 13. The clerk of the board of supervisors of the several counties of this state is hereby authorized to call a special meeting of the board of supervisors in their respective counties, on the application in writing of any three of the supervisors, giving at least six days notice to each supervisor of the time and place of meeting; and the said supervisors, or a majority of them, when so met, shall have power to adjourn from time to time, for the purpose of carrying into effect this act.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO PRINTERS.

WHITE, HAGAR & CO.

Have removed their TYPE FOUNDRY from No. 11 Thames-street, to No. 45 Gold-street, where they are prepared to execute all orders in their line of Business, on the most liberal terms.

The introduction of machinery in place of the tedious and unhealthy process of casting type by hand, long a desideratum by the European and American Founders, was, by American ingenuity, and a heavy expenditure of time and money on the part of our senior partner, first successfully accomplished. Extensive use of the machine cast letter, has fully tested and established its superiority in every particular over that cast by the old process.

Our SPECIMENS exhibit a complete series, from Diamond to Twenty lines Pica—the Book and News Type being in the most modern light faced style.

WHITE, HAGAR & CO. are agents for the sale of the Smith and Rust Printing Presses, which they can furnish to their customers at the manufacturer's prices. Chases, Cases, Sticks, Ink, and every article used in the printing business, kept on hand, or furnished at short notice.
